

Delegates looking forward to 'open convention' debate

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

"It is going to be a surprising convention, but what the surprise will be, I don't know," George W. Donohoo of Wood River, one of the delegates from the 23rd Congressional District, summarized at a fund-raising party for the delegates at Charlie's Restaurant Monday evening.

Donohoo summarized the feelings of most of the 10 delegates and alternates who attended the fund raiser. Opinions were divided among the Democratic delegates on several issues in the convention, which will be held in New York City

Aug. 11-14.

The main issue was whether to "open up" the convention, so delegates are not bound to vote for a committed candidate on the first ballot, which would assure the nomination of President Jimmy Carter for re-election.

Of nine delegates and alternates questioned, three were in favor of opening up the convention, four were opposed and two said they had not yet decided.

Martha O'Malley, the whip of the district's delegation, said she strongly supports opening up the convention.

"If the convention were today, I would vote to open it. Naturally, the Democrats want a candidate that could win, but the polls tell us we are behind. There are many good Democrats who could win," she summarized.

The host for the party, delegate Charles Hester, said, "I believe it should be an open convention. In 1972 and 1976, I went to the conventions uncommitted. This time I am committed and I have to vote for Carter on the first ballot under Illinois law. We will have to resolve it through the entire Illinois delegation."

'D-Day' today for A.O. Smith

Today is "D-Day"—Decision Day—for the A. O. Smith Corporation automobile frame production plant in Granite City. The company's board of directors is meeting today in Milwaukee to consider the Smith management's recommendation to close the spacious plant.

Located between Missouri Avenue and Ill. Route Three, the structure was tailor-made to make a product that apparently no longer will be needed after the early 1980s.

No change has been indicated in the recommendation, announced here July 15, that the local facility be closed permanently. Factors cited were declining sales and the lack of a future market for the frames used in medium-size and large autos.

Word of today's decision is to be forwarded to area newsmen gathered on the 32nd floor of a downtown St. Louis office building. They will question a Smith spokesman by a two-way telephone conference link. It was unknown how long the board of directors will discuss the topic prior to the vote and announcement.

Auto Workers have been on strike at the plant since April 8. The production staff of 1,400 had been reduced by layoffs to 650 prior to the strike; about 200 salaried personnel have continued to work.

The latest negotiations July 18 were led by Charles A. Baumann, corporate manager of labor relations, and Willard Herzog, president of Auto Workers Local 1715.

Herzog reported yesterday that independent steelworkers at Smith's Milwaukee frame plant this week voted 1,478 to 413 to strike after their present contract expires today. He has contended that wages offered here are less than those at Milwaukee.

The corporation has contended that neither plant is immune from loss of production orders if operating costs become excessive. The Milwaukee plant's employment at one time totaled 9,000.

Negotiators for Local 1715 submitted a new three-year contract proposal at the July 15 meeting, but Baumann said a multi-year contract is undesirable due to economic conditions in the auto field.

In his July 15 announcement, Jack M. Birchall, Smith's director of merchandising and public relations, said the strike here had little effect on the closing recommendation, but that it may have hurt the company's ability to find other customers, as well as speeding the closing decision.

General Motors has announced plans to phase out use of conventional auto frames in 1982, instead emphasizing small car designs utilizing "cradles" and other ways to achieve auto bodies' structural strength.

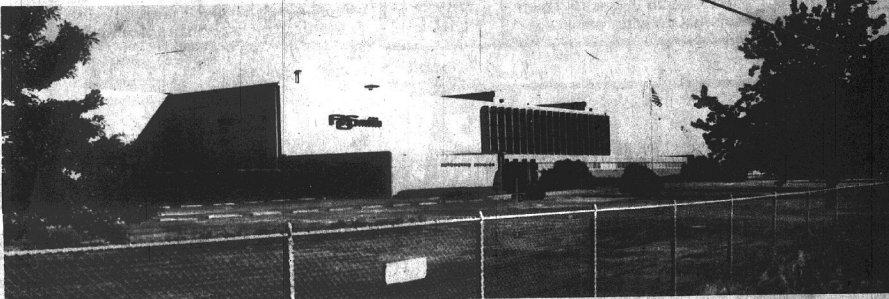

If the Granite City plant is closed, with GM and Smith equipment then moved out, the Smith Automotive Division will decide whether to try to sell the plant, lease it to another manufacturer, or "mothball" it for possible future use.

Herzog accused the company this week of trying to take advantage of a "split in our union" by withdrawing management's June 25 offer and presenting a new proposal "that has taken away the majority of the things that we had gained."

Workers circulated a petition two weeks ago asking that they be permitted to vote on a contract offer from Smith. Herzog says no such petition has been received.

While acknowledging that what was called the final company offer never was put to a vote of the membership, Herzog says the original strike authorization—with an indefinite timing provision—carried 583 to 3.

He adds that Local 1715 members "at three regular union meetings voted and instructed the bargaining committee not to bring back any company proposal until the bargaining committee, guided by past bargaining (Continued on Page 4)

A. O. SMITH CORP. The corporation's board of directors is to vote today in Milwaukee on a recommendation by the management that the Granite City automotive frame plant be closed permanently. Area civic leaders, unions and other groups have been urging the board to keep the plant, formerly one of Granite City's largest employers, open.

Census shows population declining

Challenges to 1980 totals are anticipated

By BILL WINTER

of the Press-Record

Quad-City area population, apparently has slipped below the 70,000 level, with an overall decrease of perhaps 7,000 in the past ten years. But the sharp drop indicated by this week's preliminary 1980 census count is considered inaccurate by local governmental leaders. They plan to push for upward numerical adjustments, noting that many types of financial allocations to local and county taxing agencies hinge on the population figures.

Typical of the concern being voiced is that felt by Nameoki Township Supervisor Harold Davis, who says the 1970 Nameoki Township total of 13,872 is listed as decreasing to 12,512. Large areas of East Madison and State Park Place may have been missed, township officials believe, and they were busy counting houses in those neighborhoods yesterday.

Chouteau Township, which includes the Mitchell area, also has experienced a census decline but only amounting to 122 persons, from 8,321 to 8,389. The Township Board will seek a new census if that preliminary count becomes final, since it is convinced the population has increased.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols said Wednesday he is "disenchanted" with his city's supposed population decrease from 4,880 in 1970 to 3,371. He is writing Regional Director Stanley Moore and District Manager Ron Randolph to challenge the new total and to learn of the number of census forms mailed and returned.

With the Granite City population of 40,685 falling to 36,099, based on the preliminary tally, officials are utilizing an authorized ten-day review period to compare census tract data with their informal count of households.

The city's Complete Count Committee headed by City Clerk Robert W. Stevens will consider a plan of action Aug. 6. If corrective steps fail to produce a higher total from the U. S. Census Bureau, an entirely new Granite City census may be conducted, Mayor Paul Schuler said at Tuesday night's City Council meeting.

The mayor commented, "Last time, we had to have a re-count to get our 40,685. If forced to do so again, we will."

Madison officials have been told their city's population has decreased from 7,042 to 5,834. The city thinks 6,500 would be more accurate and will try to show that many buildings listed as vacant in reality are occupied.

Pontoon Beach village officials generally are pleased with their new census report of 3,182 persons in 1,117 households, compared to a 1970 count of 2,448 in 792 households. The village is principally in Nameoki Township.

Chouteau tallies discussed by the Town Board on Monday night show an average of 3.09 persons per household, compared to 3.32 a decade ago. South Rosanna has 2,215 persons in 720 homes (with 25 vacant houses) and Hartford has 1,049 in 382 housing units.

Officials concede that population density tends to decline as neighborhoods age. Also, families on the average are smaller nowadays—a fact that school authorities can attest to, in view of their smaller enrollments here and in most parts of the state and nation.

But there is a general feeling among mayors and supervisors that many people did not mail back their census forms, and that subsequent visits by census workers failed to add some of these families to the list.

Affected by the population are disbursements of motor fuel funds, state income taxes, revenue sharing, community development block funding, certain grants, and various other disbursements.

Madison County had expected to increase its quarter-million population total—250,911 in 1970—but instead has been told there is a 3.3 percent drop in the number of persons, to 242,538. The count will be challenged.

Granite City remains the biggest city in Madison County. The biggest reported decrease in the county is a population plunge of 6,062 in Alton, from 39,700 to 33,638. Wood River has been notified of a 1,300 decrease.

Despite new subdivisions, Glen Carbon has suffered a loss of 175 persons from its 1975 special census count of 3,063. During the past five years, water customers there have increased 675, including three mobile home courts which have a total of 386 households.

The Census Bureau agreed this week that it had missed the northern area, which has Edwardsville addresses. So it has increased the unofficial Glen Carbon count by 2,189 to a new total of 5,096.

Edwardsville has been informed of a 211 increase to 12,209. But—you guessed it—officials feel the new total is too low and will talk about it at a special council meeting tonight.

New Venice alderman

John T. Fleig, 53, of 209 Weber St., Venice, was appointed the new First Ward Alderman at the Venice City Council meeting Tuesday evening. Fleig is filling the office vacated in September 1979 by E. Harry Buente, who resigned for health reasons.

The filling of the vacancy has been a point of discussion at several council meetings. Philip Daniels is the other Venice Ward One alderman.

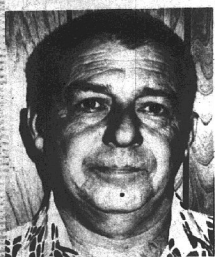

Fleig has lived in Venice for 33 years. He and his wife Ila have three married children and a son, Daniel, age 14, living at home.

The new alderman is chief of the motor pool at the Granite City Army Installation and is a World War II veteran.

The Fleigs are members of St. Marks Roman Catholic Church in Venice.

"I appreciate the appointment very much. All I can really say now is that I will try to do the best job I can in filling the requirements of an alderman," Fleig said.

When Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols announced his appointment of Fleig the city council unanimously concurred.

Plans for an administrative reorganization of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were announced to the university community today by President Earl Lazerson.

The president said the plans, which include major restructuring and centralizing of functions, were prepared with the assistance of the vice presidents and other advisers following an intensive review of the existing structure of the university.

Lazerson was named president by the SIUE Board of Trustees on July 10 after serving as acting president since September 1979.

Exchange students convène

Mike McLean of Granite City represented this community at an international gathering of more than 400 high school exchange students from 24 different countries which convened July 18—July 20 at Calvin College in Grand Rapids, Mich.

McLean recently returned home after a year in Doncaster, Australia, where he was the guest of a family, under the auspices of the Rotary Club of Doncaster. The convène in Michigan was sponsored by Central States Rotary Youth Exchange Program, Inc., an organization embracing Rotary exchange programs in Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and Ontario, Canada.

The meeting also served to enhance contact between the exchange students and their Rotary district chairmen.

Highlighting the three-day event was the presence of Rolf Klarich of Helsinki, Finland, president of Rotary International.

Three categories of students attended the convène—those foreign students in the midst of their stay in the United States or Canada; American and Canadian students preparing to leave for their year-long visit overseas; and young people from both Canada and the U.S. who have just returned from a year abroad.

The Rotary youth exchange program is available to high school students of this area through arrangements with local Rotary clubs.

Don Shaffner, coordinator of the Off-Campus-Extended Classroom Education for the Granite City School District, is chairman of the Granite City and district Rotary Youth Exchange Program.

New Hope Baptist Bible School set

New Hope Baptist Church, Highway 3 and Maffitt Street, will open its annual Vacation Bible School on Monday, Aug. 4, through Friday, Aug. 8, each morning from 9 to 12 noon, according to the Rev. Tom Foa, pastor and VBS director.

The summer program will include Bible study through the use of lessons, puppets and crafts. Recreation and refreshments will also be provided.

The school is open to all children and youth between the ages of 4 to 18.

For more information those interested are advised to call 931-6267, Rev. Foa said.

LOOT IS WORTH $3,341
Welding equipment and tools worth about $3,341 were stolen from the garage of David Cortez, 1920 Benton St., during the past three weeks, Cortez discovered at 10:30 a.m. Friday. He said the garage door had been broken previously when accidentally struck by an auto, so the garage was not locked.

LaLeche leader attends meeting

Pat McMillan, leader of the Granite City La Leche League has returned from the Missouri Area Conference of LLL in Baldwin, Mo.

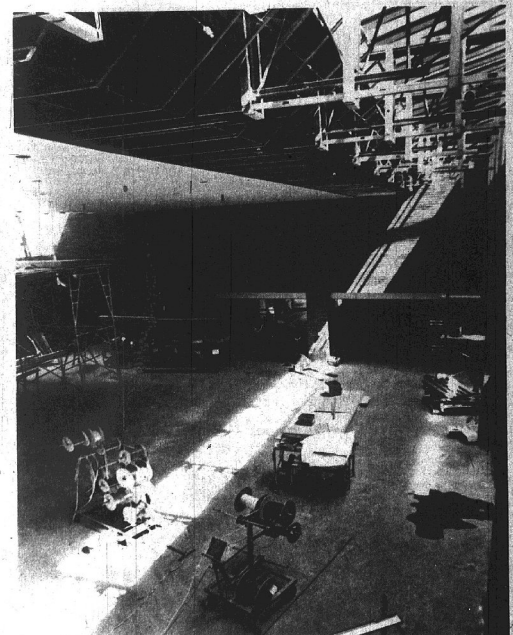

The name La Leche is Spanish and means "the milk." A non-sectarian, non-profit organization, the league's purpose is to help encourage "good mothering through breastfeeding."

Edwina Froehlich, one of the seven founding mothers and a member of the board of directors of LLL was present.

Leaders, mothers and fathers of breastfed babies attended workshops on the different aspects included nutrition, weaning, communications with other children and a session for fathers was held to show their role in breastfeeding.

The Granite City LLL was started in February of this year, and is now a member of the 3,500 groups in the United States, Canada, and over 40 other countries.

For further information about the Granite City LLL, Quad-Cityans may call 931-6774.

100 calls daily on child abuse hotline

Anthony Jenkins, regional administrator of the East St. Louis Office, Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, was guest speaker at the Granite City Business and Professional Women's July dinner meeting.

Members met in the Officer's Club at the Granite City Army Installation, with Rosalee Stern, president, in charge.

Jenkins spoke on the problem of child abuse in the local area, how his agency functions and how area residents can be of assistance. He said a "hotline" number to Springfield (800-25A-BUSE) now is handling 100 calls per day, with 85 percent of the cases being investigated within 24 hours.

There is a need for foster parents for abused children, Jenkins related, noting that interested persons may call the Granite City office at 876-8855 for further information.

Mrs. Donna Hartwick and Mrs. Dorothy Rogers were introduced and inducted as new members. Serving as escorts were Mrs. Stern and Mrs. Anna Mae Gates.

In the business session, members approved the annual budget and plans were made to participate in the annual sidewalk sale and to sponsor a style show and a Christmas party.

It was announced the Individual Development Program (IDP) will be offered this fall, starting Sept. 18 and continuing through Nov. 18.

The IDP is open to the public. Through the program, women are trained in public speaking and in building self-confidence and poise.

A resolution was adopted by the club calling for the City of Granite City to continue to maintain a local Air Pollution Control Board.

The action was taken after club members called the board's function a "facade" in continuing to monitor the health and welfare of local residents.

The resolution will be presented to the City Council, which has been discussing the possibility of dissolving the board and allowing the state to perform its current duties.

"Woody" Moad said he is "very much in favor" of opening up the convention. "I think we should put our party in front of our people. It would be a bigger and better party which would win in November," he added.

East St. Louis Mayor Carl Officer, an at large delegate, was among those who disagreed. "The rules were clear in 1978 and were unanimously accepted by the main (Edward) Kennedy supporters and others. If we are going to change the rules every time, there is no reason for any rules at all," Officer said.

However, Officer stated, "I hope he (Carter) voluntarily opens up the rules. It would be best for the party."

Donohoo said he would vote against opening the convention "with what I know now." However, he said, "Something is going on behind the scenes. What it is, I don't know, but from what I have read, something is going on which could change this convention."

"I would like to avoid the type of confusion we ended up with in 1972," McGovern when opening up the convention left some people with half a vote and there was confusion who the delegates were," Donohoo said.

Doris Jefferson of Mascoutah said she feels she owes it to the people who voted for her in the primary election to vote for Carter, since she was committed to him on the primary ballot. "I would have no credibility if I was not for Carter," she concluded.

Riley L. Owens III, an alternate delegate and Mayor of Centerville, concluded, "I am not leaning toward an open convention, but if we do, I am certain we will come out with much stronger delegates."

Katherine "Kay" Harrison, an at-large delegate, says she intends "to do what is best for the Democratic Party. I will find that out at the convention two weeks away."

Janet Kuehn, an alternate delegate, said her mind on an open convention will not be made up, "until I see what happens in the next two weeks."

Another major issue which has many of the candidates "burning mad," according to one delegate, is a section of the rules which seems to indicate that any delegate who disagrees with any part of the Democratic platform can be physically ejected from the floor of the convention.

"It's not worth the paper it's printed on," was the assessment of the rule by the delegation's whip, Martha O'Malley. "It is only on paper. I'm not sure the rule really says that, but I do not agree with it," she concluded.

Doris Jefferson expressed stronger feelings. "They better throw me out, then. I paid my own way and I am for women's rights." Katherine Harrison put it simply, "I will vote against that."

Officer said he does not believe the rule will stand. "They are going to have enough problems in New York. They are not going to be throwing delegates out of the convention. I am going to go to the convention to sit in my seat and vote."

Janet Kuen first commented on the rule, "I will vote against it, definitely," but then changed her mind and said she did not know how she will feel by convention time.

Moad said he was strongly opposed to the rule and will fight it, if he has an opportunity to vote. Owens stated, "I am 100 percent against it (the rule forcing delegates to support the platform). This is supposed to be a Democratic convention—democratic."

Hester stated, "I am opposed to it. I think it would help President Carter's kippolitical atmosphere if he would welcome an open convention."

Donohoo said he believes the rule has been "misinterpreted" and only puts some restrictions on delegates bound to one candidate. He said he believes it is intended only to force those committed to one candidate to support him.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, a member of the Democratic National Committee, said he will not have floor voting rights during the convention, since he is not a delegate, but will be able to vote in caucus sessions.

Schuler said he supports an open convention. "It's the democratic way to do it," he said. He also said he will "definitely" vote against the rule requiring delegates to support all of the positions of their candidates.

It was an interesting night and could preview an interesting Democratic convention, most agreed.

Chouteau tax bills ready late August

Residents of Chouteau Township should receive their tax bills in late August according to a letter from Evelyn Bowles, read at the township meeting on Monday night.

Chouteau Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks noted the township has resolved its third allocation of replacement tax money for personal property in the amount of $8,491. He added another check for 15 percent more is due in October and receipts in 1981 will be made in eight payments instead of four payouts received in 1980.

Sparks also reported he had purchased another barrel of chemicals to continue the mosquito spraying program in the township area, at a cost of $18.40 per gallon.

Mrs. Pat Polley read a communication in relation to the sewer project noting an inspection program will begin about the first of September, beginning at the Granite City sewage treatment plant. At each section is approved by the householder and sewer officials the individual resident may connect to the new system, it was reported.

Film company to use abandoned bridge here

The Madison City Council Tuesday evening entered into agreement with Slam Dunk Productions for the use of the city owned Chain of Rocks Bridge to make a movie.

Slam Dunk is a subsidiary of AVCO Embassy films. "Escape from New York" is the title of the film and several action scenes are to take place on a non-existent bridge leading out of New York City.

One scene where a car crashes through the guar-rail and the driver jumps to safety was cancelled after Casper S. Nighobossian explained to the film company the workmen's compensation laws of Illinois and the potential cost of claims should the stunt man get hurt.

The filming will take place between Aug. 1 and Sept. 15, with the company paying the city $1,750 for use of the bridge.

After the agreement was read by Nighobossian, stipulating that the city cannot be held responsible for accidents or problems on the bridge, the council approved the use of the bridge on a motion made by Fifth Ward Alderman Don Garrett.

major emphasis on the academic role and responsibility of SUUE. The vice president and provost will head up the Office of Academic Affairs and Student Services and will serve as the person in charge in the absence of the president.

Four other major administrative divisions, each headed by a director reporting to the president, are:

—Personnel Services.
—Supporting Services.
—Planning and Resource Management.

—Development and Public Affairs.

Lagerson said the objective is "to bring together the functions that are most closely related and have a natural affinity with each other, thus eliminating structural lines that have interfered with the smooth flow of essential activities." He emphasized: "The academic role and responsibility of the University is recognized as pre-eminent. The other major organizational units, while performing extremely essential functions, are clearly supportive in nature."

The president said internal concerns and "external pressures" that motivated the new organization structure included: "a perception of unduly high institutional support costs; ineffective coordination and communication among functional areas; insufficient articulation of institutional objectives;

Obvious and very pressing problems of recruitment and retention; inappropriate competition among units; organizational barriers hampering the management of student services; lack of a centralized planning and resource agency; and pressures from the state related to operating costs."

proposal, received a contract experience that would be just and fair for all members."

If the decision is reached to close the plant, it will be up to General Motors to decide whether to transfer its orders to the Milwaukee plant or to a firm competing with Smith.

It is unlikely that many local workers would be transferred to other Smith plants, since there already are numerous persons who have been laid off elsewhere.

A closing shutdown here in two to four months, Birchhill has estimated.

GC approves budget

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

By a vote of eight to five, the Granite City Council Tuesday night approved a city budget of $7,302,000 and other budgets totaling $7,057,148, but not without considerable discussion.

The new 1980-81 fiscal year budgets are printed in their entirety on pages 26 and 27 of today's Press-Record.

Alderman Sam Whitmer noted that the budget had to be passed by a two-thirds majority of the council (eight yes votes) and said he wanted to vote no, but realized the budget had to pass and be published in today's Press-Record, or the city would not receive tax funds next year.

Whitmer voted against the budget's passage, but told the aldermen that, if the budget failed, he would like their permission to switch his vote to yes.

"I know that it has to pass,

Although it contains $11,000 of city officials to the annual conference and I wanted to vote against it," the senior Ward Two alderman said.

In the roll call, Whitmer was joined by Charles Douglas of the First Ward, Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward, Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the Fifth Ward and Alderman Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward in voting no.

The other aldermen voted to pass the budget, with the exception of Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman of the Second Ward, who was absent.

The pickup, belonging to Kenny Druhe, 2227 Lee Ave., a relative of the child, was parked at the rear of the house.

After the boy started the truck it crossed the alley and struck the garage door of Mrs. Bonnie Wickham, 2230 Washington Ave., causing slight damage to the property.

It was facetiously debated by the investigating officer whether a "driving without a license" citation was appropriate, but the small boy got off with only a "caution" to mark his debut as a driver.

It is not known what he received from his mother.

Roto-tiller rent is due

If you rent something it is best to return it, as Charles E. Bone, 51, Roxana, found out Sunday.

He was stopped by police in Roxana, where he lives, walking down the street and allegedly drinking beer.

Police ran a routine check and found an outstanding warrant charging theft of services in Pontoon Beach.

It seems that in April, 1978, Bone allegedly rented a roto-tiller from Taylor Rental, 3861 Lake Drive and never returned it.

He was released Sunday evening after posting $150 cash bond.

Memorials may be contributed to the Heart Fund or the First United Presbyterian Church, Granite City.

Russell "Bud" Godwin, 62, of Granite City, died of injuries sustained in a tractor mishap near Pomona, Ill., on Thursday, July 24.

Gasoline then leaked out of the tractor and caught fire. A neighbor, William Penrod, discovered the body about 5:30 p.m.

Mr. Godwin was taken to St. Joseph Memorial Hospital in Murphysboro where he was pronounced dead upon arrival.

He was born Nov. 17, 1917, in Jackson County, Ill., and had resided here for 38 years.

Welch files for judge post

Republican candidate for judge of the 5th District Appellate Court, Thomas Welch of Collinsville, and William Evers III, attorney for a special committee to secure placement of a GOP candidate on the ballot, will be in Springfield Aug. 18 for an Illinois Board of Elections hearing to ask the board to certify Welch's nomination.

Welch was nominated by a GOP caucus of county chairmen in Marion Tuesday night.

In a surprise move, when he went to the Board of Elections office Wednesday, he also filed petitions bearing 700 names in addition to his certificate from the caucus.

The petitions and certificate were accepted subject to certification by the Board of Elections.

The constitution of Illinois says, "A person eligible for the office of judge may cause his name to appear on the ballot as a candidate for judge at the primary and at the general or judicial elections by submitting petitions. The General Assembly shall prescribe by law the requirements for petitions."

Murder charge dismissed

Associate Judge P.J. O'Neill has dismissed a murder charge against John Arnett, 19, of the 2200 block of Lee Avenue, in connection with the fatal stabbing of James Naylor, 22, of 2315 Illinois Ave., July 10.

Arnett still is charged with conspiracy to commit murder and J.B. Hayes Jr., 18, also of the 2200 block of Lee Avenue, is charged with murder in connection with the incident.

It is alleged that the two and a juvenile boy went to a home in that block, armed with knives, and argued with Mr. Naylor. During the exchange, a knife was thrown, allegedly by Hayes, which struck Mr. Naylor's back. He died at St. Elizabeth Medical Center a short time later.

TAKES $30 CASH
Earl Marri of the 2600 block of Sheridan Avenue reported at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday that a burglar entered his home by forcing a basement door and stole $30 cash from a bedroom. An inventory was being taken to determine what else is missing.

Allen back from prosecutor school

Assistant State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron announced Wednesday that Assistant State's Attorneys Dick Allen of Granite City and Dan Schatzkin have completed the 35th annual course for prosecuting attorneys at Northwestern University School of Law, held July 21 through 25 in Chicago.

Objectors to rezoning of Morrison, Nameoki

Plans by Russell Lewis to develop property at Route 203 (Nameoki Road) and Morrison Road brought about 30 persons to an on-site public hearing Tuesday morning, many opposing the rezoning. Lewis was requesting. Some homeowners objected to rezoning the property for apartments and businesses along Nameoki Road, fearing that such developments might reduce property values of homes in the Blue Spruce Court-Morrison Road area.

among the best possible courses for career prosecutors.

He said such training is "in line with this office's ongoing policy of utilizing the best available methods of keeping abreast of the current laws."

Allen will be expanding his duties in Granite City in the near future to act as a local warrant officer, certified by Byron to issue felony warrants for Quad-City area police departments.

runoff from the project would eventually get into the Delroy Slough and increase drainage problems there.

A few of the nearby homeowners spoke in favor of the project.

Lewis told the county's zoning board of appeals that the area needs apartments and the businesses along the highway would not decrease property values.

After the hearing, the zoning board met in private session to reach the recommendation it will give to the county board. That recommendation will not be announced until after Lewis has been notified of the decision.

Those attending came here from communities in Arizona, Tennessee, Missouri and throughout Illinois. The day was spent reminiscing, playing games and picnicking. Everyone was impressed with the facilities in Wilson Park, a family spokesman said.

The older brothers and sisters, who grew up in the Murphysboro area, had not been together as a group in almost 47 years.

William Criss, 89, of Granite City was the oldest family member at the reunion, which was arranged by Mrs. Janet Marshall of Granite City.

The Criss brothers and sisters attending, in addition to William, were Roy Criss, Jessie Richards, Bessie Summers and Della Berndt. Sisters and brothers from the Jolly family and their spouses were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jolly, Juanita Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jolly, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Agers, Mr. and Mrs. William Agers, Mr. and Mrs. John Jolly and Mrs. Marshall.

The Berndt brothers and sisters and their families included Anna Mae Fraley, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest P. Berndt, Minna V. Waring, Cora J. Area aiding hungry community in India

By TOMMYE WALTER
A bowl of rice and a cup of tea are going a lot farther toward feeding the multitude than a campus minister at SUE dared to dream.

More than $6,000 has been harvested from a "Rice for Lunch" project undertaken by Father Joseph Langford at the local campus several months ago. The intent is to help rice farmers of a small parish outside Calcutta get back on their feet following a year of famine and drought, and funds are still coming in.

The original plan was to raise enough money to purchase at least one irrigation pump, piping to get water from wells to the rice paddies, and a few pounds of rice seed to ensure a future crop.

Fr. Langford first learned of the villagers' plight through a friend whose native home is Gortamal, one of the worst hit villages in the parish. Letters from home had alerted her to the situation.

The project began with a Wednesday lunch of rice and tea at the campus Religious Center, expanding to include other promotional activities such as bake sales, talent shows, and special services.

Fr. Langford contacted every agency, organization, church and individual he knew, as well as a number of people he didn't know, asking for their assistance.

"The response has been overwhelming. It was like dropping a pebble into a pool of water. I found that every pebble I dropped sent ripples radiating from it," he said. "The response was really touching to me," he said.

Each Sunday, a fistful of rice is placed on the altar. "Nearly 1,000 rupees are collected each month by this offering," Fr. Pulikatt said.

Since the farmers have seen no rain for almost a year, Fr. Langford said, "They have had nothing to eat, no means of buying food or paying debts, and no need for planting."

"Many people who really didn't have a lot of money dug way down into their pockets to contribute."

The money has reached the parish. According to the priest serving over the parched parish, plans are already being formulated to alleviate the famine. As events develop, Father George Pulikatt will share the knowledge with his Illinois and Missouri benefactors.

According to the Indian priest, the state in which the parish lies is backward, its people living well below the poverty line. Per-capita income for the whole year is estimated at only 40 cents.

The schools don't receive full financial support, so that the parish must raise money to pay one-third of the teachers' salaries.

In the years when there is a good rice harvest, the villagers contribute a share through a collection called the "Mutta Sini."

Victims of vandals forced to move

"Is this what you get when you do your duty as a citizen and call the police when you see a crime?" Margaret Brim asked as she glanced around a room of broken windows and hurried cement pieces and beer bottles in her rented apartment at 1710 Cleveland Blvd.

Mrs. Brim and the other occupant of the apartment-type building, Charles Hardin, have hardly been rewarded for their good citizenship. Within the last 10 days, Mrs. Brim's auto has been burned, nearly every window in the apartment house has been broken, items have been stolen from her apartment, threats that the building will be burned have caused her to sleep elsewhere at night and the landlord has asked her and her children to move out.

"It's all because I told the police one of the neighborhood boys had stolen an air conditioner from a motel," Mrs. Brim believes. "After that my car was burned."

Hardin noticed someone acting suspiciously near his car last week and called the police. A large piece, half of a concrete block, landed in Hardin's bathroom. "I'm glad I wasn't in there. It must have taken more than one person to lift that up and throw it through that window," he commented.

Sifting through the debris, broken vases and beer bottles on the floor, Mrs. Brim contended, "There is a real bunch of punks in this neighborhood. They sleep during the day and gather out here during the night to drink beer and cause trouble. It happens every night."

Others in the block agreed, some saying groups of up to 25 youths gather on many nights in the block. "I picked up 27 beer bottles outside this morning, not counting the ones that were thrown into my apartment," Mrs. Brim said.

"I told them (neighborhood youths) that they commented, 'We picked this up off my daughter's bed. They didn't know if she was asleep in that bed or not when they threw it. They just don't care,' she said.

Another large piece, half of a concrete block, landed in Hardin's bathroom. "I'm glad I wasn't in there. It must have taken more than one person to lift that up and throw it through that window," he commented.

"I told them (neighborhood youths) that they were not going to drive me out of this neighborhood and I do not want to leave. I put heavy (plastic) mattress covers over all of the windows to keep glass from breaking windows from coming inside and I thought we were ready. I was wrong.

"Now my landlord tells me he wants us out. See what happens when you get decent people in this area. Neither Mr. Hardin nor I drink and we try not to bother other people. All we did was to call the police when we saw something wrong," Mrs. Brim concluded.

Five persons have been charged in connection with last week and the weekend damage at the apartment house and Granite City police have pledged they will patrol the area more closely and will make arrests of youths drinking beer on the streets, littering or treating any laws.

"We're well aware of the problems down there. We have been patrolling and making arrests. They will continue. We're going to watch it," Velser said.

SURVEYING DAMAGE to her living quarters at 1710 Cleveland Blvd., Margaret Brim prepares to move out, against her will. She and Charles Hardin, who also resides in the building, have been the targets of numerous acts of vandalism, including arson to an auto, theft and the breaking of most of the windows in the building. Mrs. Brim contends the recent problems stem from her calling the police recently when she witnessed a crime. (Press-Record Photo)

Area Day Camp awards announced this week

The two week Day Camp for area residents held at Wilson Park has culminated with a trip to Purina Research Farm. The campers also went skating, bowling, swimming and visited the Madison County Fair.

While at camp they participated in arts and crafts, music, gymnastics and sports activities. Director Mary Ruth Snelson, and assistant, Diane Morland, announced at the Thursday night family potluck that even though the weather was hot during much of the day camp there were at least 45 to 50 participants each day.

The following awards were given: Sportsmanship to Eric Welker, Marti White, Eric Coble and Janet Reileke. Gymnastics to Chris Barr, Eddie Dunnivant, Lisa DeMann and Joe Russell. Arts and crafts to Robin Madewell, Renee Huett, Mary Ann Collins, Joe Russell and counselor Laurie Hermes. Bowling, blooper awards went to Brenda Powell,

Day Camp trophies, which were awarded to one person in each group, to Debbie Jacob, Ruth Ann Muir, Albert Allen and Carmen Clark.

Other day campers were Julie Combs, Nickie Hopkins, Keith Whelan, Kenny Fisher, Rhonda Jakul, Melanie Lynn, Norman Sanders, Jim Buckle, Terri Coble, Tina Hampton, Patty Klaus, Ervin Landwehrmeier, Linda Marquis, Dennis Grimm, Bruce Senior, Forest Batson, Ruth Ann Cherry, Steve Cocagne, Ilan Damo, Shanon Fisher, Willie Frater, Ernie Laycock, Donna McCoy, Pam Peach, Gloria Sherrod, Pete Vasquez and Sandy Black.

Volunteer counselors and helpers were June Dunnivant, Tim Bob Snelson, Linda Barton, Don Dermott, Stacy Fitter, Ginger Faulkner, Karen Gaines, Anita Holt, Debbie James, Janice Noeth, Geri Szczepaniak, and Charlene Sanders and Curtis York.

The arts and crafts leader was Laurie Hermes and the women of the Salvation Army came each day to make and serve the fruit drinks.

New approach to find vocational instructors

Illinois needs more teachers, vocational teachers, that is. So a professor of education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will use a $25,000 continuing research grant to try to find some.

Vincent DeSanctis, assistant professor of secondary education and a specialist in adult education, said, "The problem is that school administrators have always looked for more welding or automotive or agricultural teachers in the ranks of the new graduates in education."

"But a recent study shows that only 54 percent of the vocational teachers are still teaching five years after graduation," he said. "They are lured away by a business or industry that is willing to pay more for their skills."

DeSanctis proposes to find more vocational teachers by reversing that trend — by retraining welders, and electricians and farmers to be teachers. The Department of Adult Vocational and Technical Education in Illinois State Board of Education liked the idea, too, and approved the one-year grant.

DeSanctis will set up a series of free workshops to be held during the school year for people who are interested. He said the world is full of people who are "tired of their job for one reason or another and are looking for a change."

Mid-career change is becoming a common part of nearly every worker's life, he said. Through the workshops, "we want to attract and identify the people who have occupational skills that are needed in vocational education." The second step will be to give them the specifics of how it can be done, he said.

The final portion of the project will be a follow-up study of the 70 people who participated in two similar workshops a year ago.

Boy, 15, needs a foster home

(Children and Family Service) Eric is 15 years old, and in need of a foster home. He is slender with sandy hair. He has no close relatives to care for him and he cannot live with his father.

Eric likes to tinker with motors in his spare time. He likes to shoot pool and likes to bowl.

He has had some problems in school and has tested slightly low, but this may be because he has not been encouraged to better himself.

A rural environment might benefit Eric. He has been shifted from home to home for the past few years, so he has not developed trust, and he is fearful of being rejected.

Eric needs foster parents, possibly a single male or foster parent, who will be concerned about him and will provide some structure and consistency in his life, but will be flexible and understanding. He is sad and withdrawn and has few positive experiences in his life.

Those interested in Eric or in foster care in general may call the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, 676-8865, and ask for Shirley Faber.

Foster parents are paid $118 to $180 monthly, depending on the age of the child. Medical, dental and pharmaceutical expenses are paid by the state.

BURNING BOXCAR under the McCambridge Avenue viaduct south of Madison is extinguished by Madison firemen during the weekend. The boxcar was full of paper diapers. Fireman Robbie Robbins suffered a broken leg when a bale of the diapers fell on him. The fire took several hours to extinguish and flared up again later, causing firemen to be recalled to the scene. A spark from a welder is believed to have been the cause of the fire.

No money available for raises

The Venice City Council Tuesday evening passed a $1,750,111 budget, however, there will be no increases for any city employees.

Increases previously reported were to cover a change in payment of insurance as recommended by the city auditors.

After taking the auditors' advice about "changing method of payment" of insurance for employees and their families, it was discovered that the new method would cost the employees more.

On the advice of City Attorney Larry Hartman the council reversed itself Tuesday and insurance will be paid by the city in the same method it has been for the past several years.

Mayor Tyrone Echols said, "We were pressed for time on this appropriations ordinance. Our attorney said the auditor was out of line in his recommendation and it was going to cost both the city and employees more money."

"The appropriations ordinance is not binding and the money added to salaries for insurance will be corrected and not reflected in the budget."

"We want to do the best we can and this raise question is a real problem. Contrary to what some people have been saying, there is no basketful of money laying around. I can't blame our employees for wanting raises. Many deserve them."

"You can't give what you don't have. If the taxpayers want a referendum and raise taxes then city employees may get raises. Also the city employees may find that many of the people feel they are overpaid."

"Raised could lead cutbacks in personnel. One way to get money for raises is to lay people off, if that's what you want," Echols said.

Alderman Phillip Daniels said, "I notice under section one on city officials there is an item for $1,200 for the liquor commissioner. I find that amount hard to justify for only eight liquor licenses."

Mayor Echols replied, "The finance committee put it in, I certainly did not. Now is the time to change it if the council so desires. I will ask three times are their any dissenting votes."

The mayor then asked three times for any dissenting votes on the liquor commissioner's salary and hearing none, the council moved on studying the budget.

Echols then asked the city attorney to draw up an amendment to the budget to increase the contingent fund from $15,000 to $45,000 in order to grant raises, should money become available.

GCHS North band summer program

The Granite City North High Band will report on Monday for a three-week summer training program. The program is designed to give basic musical and marching instruction to incoming students of winds, percussion, flag, rifle and pom pon and refresh the skills of the advanced returning band, pom pon, rifle and flag members.

Registration for freshman wind, percussion, pom pon, rifle and flag members will be Monday, at 9 a.m., in the North band room, with returning members registering at 10 a.m. on Monday.

Tuition for the summer program which is payable upon registration is $12. Instructions regarding time schedules for the various groups will be furnished at the registration session.

This is a new program, which is a departure from the long-standing summer band program at North. The refresher program formerly was held immediately after school was over in the Spring.

"The new format gives us two improvements. First, we have all had a good rest from school, and secondly, we will be facing immediate objectives of learning marching skills which will be used in our football half-time show, learning new music, and developing facets of our talents which will have to be programable within a month's time," commented North Band Director Robert D. Todoroff.

"The students' reaction to this new program last spring was favorable and enthusiastic. Let's hope they all bring the same enthusiasm with them this next week," he added.

The Steeler Band members have not sat idly by since school was dismissed in early June, according to Todoroff.

Seventeen members of the North Guard and Rifles, two field conductors and Director Todoroff attended a week of intensive training on the campus of Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro, Tenn., during June, and 17 members of the Steel City Belles Pom Pon Squad attended a week of training on the campus of Murray State University in Murray, Ky., during the first week of July.

The Marching Band from Steeler Land is expecting an outstanding season, thanks to their accomplishments and efforts, according to Todoroff.

Purchase land for holding pond in North Granite area

Granite City Mayor Paul Schulz has been authorized by the city council to negotiate for the purchase of 11.9 acres of land near Feralloy Metals Co., 25th Street and Nameoki Drive, to be used for a holding pond in conjunction with a drainage plan for North Granite City.

Schulz is to negotiate with Ralph A. Morris II, owner of the property, for the purchase. Morris is seeking $7,000 per acre, a total of $83,380. It was appraised at $80,350. Morris proposes closing the sale Aug. 11.

The North Granite drainage pond was part of a plan for two water retention ponds to drain not only North Granite, but also to drain the Briarcliff area.

There were numerous objections to the other holding pond, which was to be placed in the "hobo jungle" area between the north end of Yale Avenue and the railroad tracks.

"The people don't want it there and plans for it are dropped. The engineers now are studying an entirely different plan for draining the Briarcliff area and it probably will be presented in the near future," a spokesman for the city engineering department said.

Meanwhile, work could begin this fall on the North Granite drainage program, if the purchase agreement is closed by Aug. 11, he added.

In other business, the council finalized a resolution appointing local attorney and former circuit judge John Gitchoff as the attorney to perform all of the legal work involved in the issuance and sale of industrial revenue bonds for the Pre-Coat Metals, Inc., plant under construction along Route 3 north of West Pontoon Road.

All of Gitchoff's fees are to be paid from the bond proceeds, with no obligations on the city.

The aldermen agreed, reluctantly, with a recommendation that they pay a disability judgment of $1,622 to Lt. George Gallas of the police department.

Clyde Boyd served as hearing officer on a hearing on Gallas' workman's compensation claim and Boyd ruled that the officer has a five percent disability to his left foot and deserves $1,622 compensation.

Irvin C. Slate, the attorney who negotiated on behalf of the city in the case, recommended that the city pay the judgment, rather than appealing it. The recommendation was adopted on a seven to four vote of the council with Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Roy Poulos, Warren DeCatur and Paul Ray Bowler voting no.

Whitmer said later he objects to policemen getting full salary and benefits while off duty for being injured on duty and then turning around and filing a claim for more money from the city. "That's just cream on top," he contended.

The council decided to take no action, at this time, on the request by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce to make the police chief, city engineer, superintendent of streets and other alderman a voting member of the Chamber by paying $75 dues for each of the 16 persons. On a motion by Alderman Whitmer, the letter "placed on file."

The council voted to call for bids on constructing a roadway from 20th Street to the parking lot of Siderer Supply Co. as part of an agreement negotiated with Siderer when the company's old access was cut off by construction of the 19th Street overpass.

The council unanimously agreed to oppose a request to the Illinois Commerce Commission by Illinois-American Water Co. to increase its rates for water. On a motion by Whitmer, the aldermen voted to have a city attorney work with attorneys for industries and large water users in opposing the increase.

Superintendent of Streets Lionel Portell said he believes the city should make permanent repairs to a broken sanitary sewer at Faith and Myrtle avenues as soon as new tax monies are received.

Schulz said that if Portell could get something in it without dewatering, I would recommend that we take the money from our budget, use our TV people and ask for four additional people to do this," Portell explained.

He said he has been assured that work done by the city on repairing the break will not affect the status of the city's appeal for federal disaster funds to help pay for the work.

Schulz said that if Portell could get something in writing that the repairs would not affect the city's appeal, work could begin when tax funds arrive, probably in late April.

A low bid of $5,422 from Dalacope in New Jersey to provide the city with a defibrillator for the ambulance service was accepted. The purchase will only be made, however, if St. Elizabeth Medical Center purchases the equipment it needs to coordinate a program using the defibrillator. The bid was the lowest of two the city received.

A bid from Jim Pritchett to purchase a broken lawnmower from the sewage treatment plant for $55 was approved.

The council also agreed to turn over the house owned by the rehabilitation board at 2208 Benton St., to a realtor to sell. After the city rehabilitated the house, it sought bids for its sale twice, but none were received.

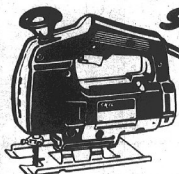

Getting settled made simple.

Future funding for anti-crime administration is 'under fire'

By RICK PEARSON

The end for the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission could be only a year away if Congress fails to appropriate money to the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

John Ellis, SILEC executive director, said 80 percent of SILEC funding comes from the federal government. He said with no appropriation, SILEC may be able to operate through the 1981 fiscal year before ceasing operation.

Carter administration officials have said they feel the LEAA should be phased out. Ellis said the budget for LEAA, which was almost $1 billion in 1975, dropped to less than $500 million last year.

SILEC serves seven counties and 43 municipalities in southern Illinois. It distributes grant programs to various agencies ranging from helping juvenile offenders, to assisting police departments in understanding changes in laws.

"We're the only program that provides support services to all branches of government," Ellis said. "Essentially, we deal with people problems."

"One of the thrusts (of SILEC) has been to make the various departments and agencies more efficient in the face of an ever-growing demand for legal redress."

Indications of growing financial burdens on SILEC surfaced last month when the agency's executive committee announced a reduction in staff and that it would share office space with another agency.

The SILEC executive committee recommended to its board of directors that the organization remain "intact for as long as possible with on-hand funds and additional local contributions."

"We have 30 to 35 grants operational right now," Ellis said. "They benefit cities, the state's attorney's office, the sheriff's department, the judicial branch and the public defender's office," Ellis said. He said existing programs have been cut by the various agencies if no LEAA appropriation is approved.

Ellis said he would like to see money appropriated from the state to maintain the Mobile Team Training Program for police officers.

Ellis said the program informs officers on changes in laws and the court system and how they affect their duties.

"Laws are changing all the time and the courts are changing the meanings of laws," Ellis said. "Police officers might see a ruling, but not know how it affects them. A police officer doesn't have the luxury of deliberation. He has to act fast, or he might be killed."

Ellis said he is unsure if Congress will amend the September budget to include funding for LEAA.

"It's a relatively small appropriation as compared to other departments in the federal government. (But,) if the (Carter) administration doesn't want the program and the attorney general does not want the program, then Congress is not going to pay much attention to it," Ellis said.

"We don't feel that an appropriation will be made other than to phase out the program or to hold it intact to reduce it if a new administration comes in."

"Everybody's fighting the budget, and unless there's some major catastrophe that shocks people, they don't feel that this program is necessary."

Bible School opens at Rock Church

The Rock Assembly of God Church, 1917 State St., is announcing the opening of vacation Bible School to start on Monday, Aug. 4, at 6:15 to 8:15 p.m., according to the Rev. Gordon Nelson, host pastor.

Classes will continue each evening until Friday, Aug. 8, with a special closing program planned for Sunday, Aug. 10, at the church at 4:30 p.m.

There will be music, games, contests, Bible stories, crafts, snacks and puppets, Rev. Nelson added.

The minister said the theme this year is, "Jesus, I Believe in You." All children three through the sixth grades are welcome. To pre-register call the church office at 451-2022 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Although pre-registration is not necessary it would be appreciated so the directors can better coordinate the program, the pastor noted.

1 Corinthians 2:5... "That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God."

It is wisdom to seek God. There is such a great peace that fills us when our faith believes in Him. If only we could learn to be content with the knowledge of God and not try to fathom all His ways. His ways are far above our ways and past finding out.

It is tragic that in so many cases, an increase in knowledge causes men to forsake God and not draw nigh to Him.

Paul said that our faith stand in the Power of God and not in the wisdom of men.

A wise man takes good advice.

Why not take it Today.

Visibility linked to driving safety '10-4' Explorers hosted by judge

By JAMES G. GALLO

Illinois State Police
Maryville District

Reduced visibility or impaired vision is a factor in many traffic accidents.

Ninety percent of all driving decisions depend on good vision. Alcohol, adverse weather, darkness, faulty wipers, inattention and poor eyesight reduce ability to see clearly.

The British Motor Corp. of Canada points out that if a driver sneezes while traveling 70 miles per hour, he will travel 330 yards in a dazed or semi-blind condition. If he sneezes three times at 15 mph, he will travel 220 yards in a similar condition.

To be a safe driver you must develop good driving habits that depend on using your eyes.

A driver uses depth perception—the ability to judge relative distance between two objects—used in passing or maintaining a safe following distance.

He or she uses color perception in identifying traffic signs, traffic control devices and highway markers; night vision, to see during low illumination or glare; and peripheral vision to see "out of the corner of your eye," increasing the total field of vision.

Driving takes seeing. The faster a person travels, the less he is able to see; you lose your peripheral vision, your vision becomes blurred, your stopping distance increases, and the impact is much greater.

We urge driving 55 mph or less. You can enjoy your trip better by seeing more.

GRANITE CITY ARMY RECRUITERS HONORED

Two Army recruiters who work out of the Army recruiting station at 3675 Nameoki Road in Granite City have been honored for recruiting excellence. The two, Staff Sergeants and Don Schroeder, were named "superstars" at a ceremony in St. Louis.

The awards were presented by Lieutenant Colonel Joseph M. Lukitsch, U.S. Army St. Louis district recruiting commander. He noted that young people who can meet physical and aptitude standards may contact the Granite City recruiters to learn more about Army opportunities; there is information on skill training, educational aid, travel options, cash bonuses, and other benefits.

Members of Explorer Post 10-4 held their first meeting in July as guests of Circuit Judge and Mrs. Charles W. Judge Chapman at their country home near Edwardsville.

The Explorers spent the better part of the late afternoon and early evening swimming, roaming through the woods and eating char-broiled cheeseburgers as fast as Judge Chapman could cook them, with plenty of soda to drink.

In addition, Mrs. Chapman had baked several cakes and a "top" of chocolate chip cookies, most of which disappeared during the evening.

Judge Chapman has been active in Exploring for several years serving as a member of the Cahokia Mound Council Explorer Committee and now serving on the committee of Post 10-4.

Adults attending were Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Layloff, James Foley and W. F. "Mike" Strange. Explorers attending were: John Bargiel, Mike Schaffner, David Mooshegan, Lonnie Smith, Leo Tornino, Ronnie Grzywacz, David Smith, Tim Vandaveer, Mike Smith, Lloyd Blumenstock, Joe Bonetti, Jim Klaus, Mark Foley, Willie Smith, Vince Dohal, Mickey Topal, John Buhman and Bill Petrovich.

Helping the Chapmans entertain were their children Tom, age 13, and Sarah, age 8.

Bible School opens at downtown church

The three church Vacation Bible School will be held at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Talmar Avenue, with two week sessions all from 9 to 11:30 a.m., according to the Rev. David Maxton, host pastor.

First week of the program will be from Tuesday, Aug. 5, through Friday, Aug. 8, and the following week from Monday, Aug. 11 to Thursday, Aug. 14.

Sponsoring churches are the host church and Niedringhaus United Methodist Church and St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

New sewer superintendent to begin duties on Friday

CHARGE IS FILED

Donald Garris, 26, of 3403 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged Monday morning with disorderly conduct after allegedly throwing a beer bottle toward a neighbor. On Monday night, the neighbor allegedly threw a trash can, bruising the left leg of Garris' wife, Peggy.

Hubert E. "Gene" Futch, 44, of 43 Moorland Drive, the new superintendent of the Madison County sanitary sewers through Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships, will assume his duties Friday and expects that the actual connection of home sewer lines into the new sanitary sewers can begin in early September.

According to Futch, pressure testing of the line currently is underway in the West Granite City area and testing will continue in a clockwise manner throughout the system, which is expected to take three to four weeks.

If, at that time, problems in getting electrical service to the lift stations are resolved, the actual connection of home sewer lines into the sanitary sewers can begin, Futch said.

The sewer committee and county board already have approved the hiring of Futch and of Paul Bennett, who is leaving a post as mechanic for the Nameoki Township Highway Department, will be lead mechanic for the new sewer district.

Futch hopes to have the mobile home office he will use put on the committee's lot on the east side of Route 111 in Pontoon Beach within the next week or two and he says he will be accessible for problems and complaints at that office as soon as telephone service begins.

When tap-ons to the new sewers begin, homeowners will be requested to obtain a free tap-on permit and to pay a $25 inspection fee at the sewer office. Futch and representative of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, the contractor, S.M. Wilson, and of the engineers, Juneau and Associates, will inspect the tap-ons. Homes passing the inspection will be able to begin using the sewers immediately, the new superintendent said.

Sewer Committee Chairman Lewis Whitell was on vacation this week and was unavailable for comment on the timetable or the hirings.

However, Committee Member Morris Miles said he was in Washington, D.C., when the meeting to hire Futch was held and his understanding is that the requirement that the superintendent be a registered engineer was waived after the only registered engineer who applied, Jack Tolliver, declined an invitation for the position.

Futch has been a resident of this area 21 years. He was born and raised in Missouri, where he graduated from high school. He has attended subsequent trade schools in mechanics and customer relations, in connection with his work for a Ford dealership in Missouri, where he was the service manager for 10 years.

He also has been a farmer and served four years in the U.S. Air Force as a radar operator.

He worked many years for the former Highway Commissioner of Chouteau, receiving experience in the use of heavy equipment and drainage.

More recently, he has been employed the last 2½ years at McDonnell-Douglas Corp. as an expediter, which was an administrative position. He gave two weeks notice, which expires Aug. 15.

All together, Futch has 23 years of experience in mechanical work, he said. Bennett has spent most of his life repairing vehicles and equipment. He operated Pontoon Fina for many years before going to work last year for Frank Melville, highway commissioner of Nameoki Township, as the township's lead mechanic.

He also has been active in politics, having served many years on the Pontoon Beach Village Board, which he presently heads as village president.

Futch said he and Bennett will begin by working on complaints and will help the contractors with the remaining work.

"Basically, we will be getting familiar with our 68 miles of sewer line," he added.

August gardening — harvests and watering

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden adviser

Gardening in August involves maintenance of existing plantings and the starting of fall gardens.

It is also the time for harvest of many of the premier crops such as melons, watermelons, sweet corn, tomatoes, peaches and plums.

The hot, dry July was about as rough on plants as it was on people. The lucky gardens that have received ample rainfall show good revival, but many remain in stressed condition.

The top priority for these gardens is water. And keep watch on perennial fruit plants, as they too may be stressed and die if the growth persists.

Other gardening tasks for August may seem to be secondary to watering, but should be done for optimum performance. The following are a few things to watch for or do:

1. Keep weeds from going to seed. Lambquarters, pigweed, crabgrass, foxtail, purslane and many other unwanted plants are starting to bloom, and this is followed by seed production.

Weed control next year will be easier if seed formation is prevented this year. The rain or watering will stimulate growth.

2. Cut or mow spent corn stalks, cabbage, bean plants and other garden vegetation while it is still green. Green organic matter decomposes much quicker than dry materials and future gardening will be easier. It also cleans up the garden area.

3. Fruiting peach and plum trees need to be sprayed for brown rot at 5 to 7 day intervals during the ripening period. Brown rot can infect and destroy a big percentage of fruit under hot, wet conditions.

Use captan, sulfur, or benomyl (Benlate) sprays or dusts as per the directions on the label. Fruit can be harvested within 24 hours of any of these treatments.

4. Spray other fruits and vegetables only as needed.

Most insect activity such as cabbage worms and cucumber beetles can be seen, and necessary sprays can be applied when they appear. Disease-prone crops will need the preventative fungicides.

5. Sow fall vegetables such as lettuce, radishes, turnips, beets, carrots, beans, mustard, spinach, Chinese cabbage in the early days of August. Fall rains and cool temperatures should make everything grow.

6. The last spray for peach borers should be made by August 15 this year. Use carbaryl (Sevin) at four tablespoons per gallon.

7. Sow a crop of rye, oats, or ryegrass in abandoned garden areas for a green manure or winter cover crop.

8. Clean up weeds in the strawberry patch and apply a DCPA (Dacthal) herbicide treatment before the fall weeds germinate. Be prepared to apply nitrogen fertilizer in mid-month.

9. Bud-graft any favorite tree fruit variety onto a stock tree of the same species to control high populations.

10. Harvest and enjoy apples, peaches, plums and watermelons that have taken all season to mature.

11. Inspect fruit plants for mites on the underside of leaves. Mites can cause yellowing or off-colored leaves that stimulate drought injury. Special miticide sprays are needed to control high populations.

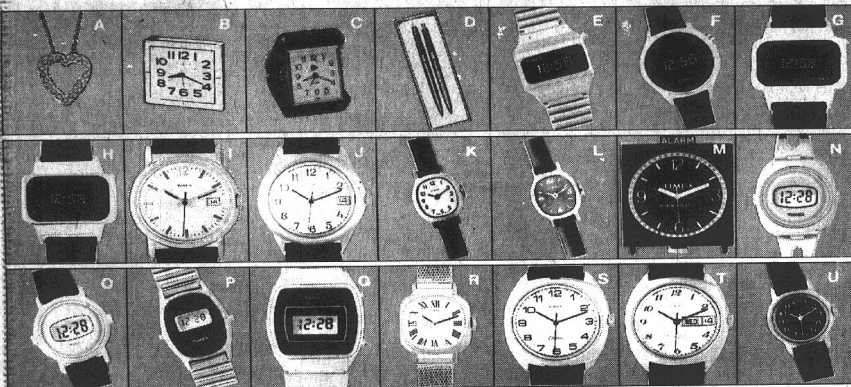

12. Continue training grapes and thornless blackberry to the trellis or support wires.

13. Apple and pear trees may be pruned for growth control where it is needed.

14. Make a note of weak growth or poor leaf color on fruit plants so that proper amount of fertilizer will be applied next spring.

Ill. Amvets Auxiliary essay winner from GC

Timothy L. Ingram, 11, a pupil at Logan School, has won the 1980 Illinois Amvets Auxiliary essay contest. It was announced this week. He is the son of Mrs. Linda Ingram, 2406 W. 24th St., and initially won first place in a local essay contest, sponsored by Amvets Auxiliary 51, prior to advancing to the state level.

During the 1979-80 school year, Timothy was a student in the sixth grade class of Floyd A. Clay at Logan School.

To honor the state winner, members of the Amvets auxiliary unit hosted a party last week at the Post 51 clubhouse, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

Timothy was presented an inscribed plaque and a $50 U.S. Savings Bond from the Illinois Amvets Auxiliary.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Glenda Brockman, Auxiliary 51 president, and Mrs. Betty Wilkens, Americanism chairman for the local unit.

Upon winning the preliminary contest earlier this year, Timothy had received a $25 U.S. Savings Bond from the local auxiliary.

Attending last week's party were the honoree's mother and sister, Kim, his teacher and about 20 Amvets and auxiliary members.

Based on the required theme, "America and Me," the award winning essay written by the 11-year-old boy reads:

"My explanation of America can be described from the letters it took to spell America."

"A—Most surely stands for Admiration. This is earned through the good will our country has shown all countries and all people.

"M—Is for Mercy. This is the mercy and love we give each individual or each country. Look what we did for the Shah of Iran and what it is costing us.

"E—Is for Enthusiasm. This is the togetherness we have through any crisis, big or small. We stand together and that is why we are called united.

"R—Is for Religion. We have the right to worship at a church of our choice. We have no dictator.

"I—Is for Individuality. This makes each person his own being. We can become what we want in our own span of timing.

"C—Is for Courage. It is our courage to stand up for the good and against the bad, and the wisdom not to let another tell us how to do it. We weigh both sides before we make a move and try not to hurt anyone in doing so.

A—Last of all 'A' is for America! America stands for honesty, freedom, unity and most of all love.

"Every country would like to duplicate us, but none can compare. We are one and only.

"This is what a boy like me is proud to say—I am an American and I will fight for the cause."

Those serving as proteems were Virginia Severs, chaplain; Marian Lipscomb, junior regent; Bonita Boyd, sentinel; Lucille Thompson, Argus; and Sara Gusewell, guide.

Twenty-seven attended and heard plans for a Sept. 28 towel social and a chili supper on Oct. 18.

Projects planned by the Hospital and Green Cap committees were discussed, and a report from the International headquarters concerning changes in 1980-81 was reviewed by Dorothy Coy, recorder.

Mildred Votupal gave a report on the College of Regents' chapter night.

Refreshments were served by the College of Regents Committee after the business session. Prizes were awarded to Goldie Coleman, Diane Warnoff and Mrs. Severs.

Membership Chapter Night will be observed at the Aug. 13 meeting, Mrs. Johnson announced.

Friendly Agers enroll member

A new member, Mary Charlton, was enrolled in the Friendly Agers Club at a pot luck meeting held at the Second Baptist Church, last week.

Mina Duggins was in charge of the business session and after her report the group sang a hymn. Mrs. Duggins also played the piano and sang, "One Day At A Time."

A reading entitled, "When You Get On" was presented by Naomi Rongey and Evelyn Smith read "You Can't Take the Country Out of the Lady."

For the program Mrs. Smith directed a play on "Liberty Bell" featuring George Washington performed by Bob Lewis and Martha Washington portrayed by Mrs. Duggins.

The Rev. Carl Watkins gave the devotional lesson taken from the book of John and offered the closing prayer and prayer for the sick.

Cards and dinners were sent to church members known to be ill.

Attending were 39 members and a guest, Judy Adams.

Nu Zeta hosts social event

The Nu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority enjoyed an evening of entertainment at the Exile in St. Louis to honor of the chapter sweetheart, Mrs. Debbie Brown.

During the evening she was presented with the traditional tiara and a gift.

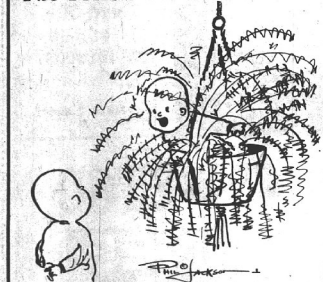

Later the group was invited to the Moerlen home. Those attending included, Debbie and Tom Brown, Carol and Norman Moerlen, Cheryl and Bill Barton, and Leoma and Don Macek.

Girl Scout leader training courses

River Bluffs Girl Scout Council announces a job description for courses of leadership training for new leaders.

A basic leadership series of sessions is designed to help new leaders have a satisfying group experience, to begin to understand, and enjoy the job, to get some of the knowledge, skills, and confidence to do their jobs well, and to gain basic information about the new program materials, council officers said.

Locally the basic leadership course is scheduled for Aug. 11 and 13 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

For those who must attend an evening class the same course will be repeated from 7 to 10 p.m. on Sept. 17, 18 and 24, at Central Christian Church.

There are many other schedules and locations if a Quad-City leader fails to register in time for the above sessions. For information and other registration dates those interested are advised to contact the council office.

Other planned workshops and programs include an age-level workshop which is a one session course to further development of Brownie, Junior, Cadette or Senior programming including participatory achievement and recognition insignia.

First Aid-multi-media or standard First Aid is needed to take girls on any outings, including troop camping, away from the usual meeting place. These courses will be offered later in the year, it was announced.

fortably in the out-of-doors and rules for outdoor life, simple knots, procedures for reservations and care of equipment, fire building and simple cooking. Those participating are to bring mess kits and remit $1.25 at time of registration.

Cadette or Senior Workshop is planned for leaders to learn the basics of older girl programming including earning recognitions and other insignia of achievement.

Advanced Troop Camp Training will give experienced leaders a chance to brush up on skills on the out-of-doors, tent pitching, washing and advanced cooking. This course also is set at $1.25 registration fee and those taking part in the program are to bring a mess kit.

The new Cadette and Senior uniforms and all components will be available after Sept. 1, the council noted.

The new mix and match coordinates are versatile and contemporary. Cadettes and seniors wear the green vest, skirt and pants, but cadettes have a green plaid blouse while seniors have a blue blouse.

Both blouses have scarves which can be worn in bows, ascot style, or as a sash. All clothing items are machine washable and may be worn in any combination, according to the council announcement.

The council also said that many items in the Girl Scout catalog have had price increases. Leaders are advised to contact the council office before placing orders.

Video tapes on TV for patient education

DOYLE MAYBERRY, an ICU patient views the first in-house video program last week.

by DONNA HARTWICK
of the Press-Record

A new concept in patient education, particularly in the cardio-pulmonary section of the hospital, was instituted Thursday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center with an in-house video program which officially started at 2:30 p.m.

The tapes are viewed on Channel 13, a free channel that may be seen on any television set in patients' rooms at the hospital, even if they have not paid for the use of the set.

An informative educational discussion with pertinent pictures of the heart and narrative on the function of the heart was the first tape to be seen.

The second segment was entitled, "How To Save a Choking Victim" and followed the same format, using descriptive pictures and a voice monologue with specific instructions relating to the topic.

Mrs. Jinny Tuetken, director of public relations at the medical center, said the tapes will be shown for one and one-half hours each day at the present time but eventually will extend into a day-long program.

The project is geared to patient education now in the coronary, pediatrics and diabetes departments of the local facility.

Projected plans for the new program include tapes for Sunday mass and sermons by various ministers and an associates' news show.

On another channel, not open to the patients, will be nursing and staff educational presentations. The first enlightening discussion between patients and the hospital staff relating to a patient's illness, cause, rehabilitation and medication began in 1978 and has continued with success. It has included those in the Intensive Care Unit.

The staff-patient program will continue with the aid of the tapes to further educate patients in care while in the hospital and after they return home.

Diane Linsley, from the Public Relations Department, changes the tapes at the proper intervals now but in the future a timer system will be installed to take care of the changeover.

To get the project initiated, Jack Grieves, assistant vice-president, and Kevin Payton, a medical technician, installed all the equipment in their free time, beginning a year ago.

Therefore the total cost was reduced to approximately $5,000 and includes two completed in-house tapes.

One of the tapes is on the history of the hospital and has been presented at various functions at the medical center.

Mrs. Tuetken said, "We hope to have a very complete library of tapes to cover a wide variety of illnesses before beginning the all-day programming."

Doyle Mayberry of Fairview Heights, Ill., was admitted to ICU on July 9 after suffering a fourth heart attack since 1974, and was one of the first patients to view the new video program. He was transferred to the fourth floor one and one-half weeks ago to recuperate.

He expressed his satisfaction of the individual patient education process, noting that he has learned much about the function of his heart. His family also has participated. In the discussions, a factor that will relieve their anxieties for his activities when he is discharged from the center,

VIDEO EQUIPMENT is prepared for the first-day airing by Diane Linsley of the Public Relations staff.

Police quickly nab young robber

A 15-year-old Granite City boy quickly found out that crime does not pay when he apparently carried out a $42 armed robbery at 1 p.m. Monday, only to be nabbed by police within a few minutes.

After an earlier visit to the Dolly Madison store, 1509 Madison Ave., to buy two doughnuts and several soft drinks to share in the window, a youth clad in blue jeans and a black T-shirt entered the store and pointed a single-shot shotgun at the clerk, who was in a back room.

Told that "I want your money," she put currency and coins totaling $42 in a brown paper bag. The suspect ran south and was still in the 1400 block of Iowa Street when a Granite City police officer located him. Ordered to move out from behind a parked auto, the 15-year-old gave up and handed over the bag containing the money. A Madison policeman who had arrived at the scene assisted in handcuffing him.

The suspect then voluntarily led officers to the shotgun, which he had thrown into the alley in the 400 block between Grand and Madison avenues while fleeing from the store.

Less than four hours after the robbery, he was transferred from the Granite City Jail to the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home, pending a decision on prosecution.

Library computer system is funded

Lovejoy Library at SIUE has received funding of $97,389 for its Library Computer System (LCS). The amount was approved this month by the Illinois Board of Higher Education for the period of July 1, 1980, to June 30, 1981.

Donald R. Smith, LCS project director at Lovejoy Library, said participation in the project "will enable the library to convert its more than 400,000 cataloged titles to an automated system."

"Users will be able to determine instantly whether an item is owned and available. In addition to promoting the sharing of resources among Illinois libraries, the system will enable the library to replace its obsolete system. Most significant is the system's potential as a take-off point for other improved services."

Emphasize practical approach to solving environment problems

By MILDRED ARNOLD
Why does someone come from as far away as Baltimore, Md., to study at Southern Illinois University?

Environmentalist Debra Gorman, who earned her bachelor's degree at Johns Hopkins University in 1978, transferred last September from Hopkins to SIUE to work on her master's degree because she like its Environmental Studies Program (ENVS).

"I learned about SIUE's program through a good friend of mine at Hopkins whose brother completed the course," the Boston native said.

"I was looking for a practical approach on the environment rather than one geared strictly toward technology and engineering. I could have gone to California or Oregon, but I preferred the Midwest."

"At SIUE, the program is interdisciplinary. I like that. At first I was disappointed because of science requirements, but now I'm enjoying even that part of the program."

Mrs. Gorman, who wants to get into the administrative aspect of environmental work, said she "kind of slipped into the anthropology department. I'm getting interested in some of the things I hadn't thought of — land use."

This summer, she is working on an archeological project at Rend Lake with other anthropology students from SIUE.

"We're trying to reconstruct vegetation of the Big Muddy River," she explained. "We want to know what the land was used for in prehistoric days, how it was used, and if it was a good idea to use it that way."

Professor Harry Kitchin, coordinator of ENVS and a member of the earth science, geography and planning department, said "the identification of archeological sites to evaluate preserving them as an important environmental concern."

"Debi's decision to transfer from Johns Hopkins to SIUE coincided with a need for someone to help with general studies courses in anthropology and ENVS, so we offered her an assistantship."

"Debi has performed well. She is a leader. Her students selected her for membership on the ENVS program Committee, which deals with policy matters. Despite her busy schedule, she maintains an almost perfect grade-point average."

One of the things she likes about SIUE's environmental studies program is "the great seminar course where every other week we sometimes more often — someone in an environmental-related job spends an hour lecturing, and then we have an hour of discussion. Faculty members from other disciplines and representatives of local and state government and industry give lectures."

As a "diehard" environmentalist, Mrs. Gorman believes it is important for the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to keep its sights on the environment "rather than giving in too much to those who are destroying our environment."

"Because of today's economic problems, some people are saying we shouldn't worry about the environment, and the EPA is beginning to relax standards it didn't have to compromise."

"Coal companies that cannot sell high sulfur coal disturb me coming out with ads which condemn the federal government and the EPA."

"There are technologies to clean up coal, but they are expensive. Industry would rather import coal with less sulfur content than buy equipment to use Illinois coal," she stated.

"I believe industry in general has been cooperating. It is not today's worst polluter."

"I find it interesting that the agriculture industry, with its use of pesticides, is a serious offender. Soil is washing into rivers, creeks and streams, bringing a new source of problems. We must stop soil erosion."

"We should emphasize the fact that solutions to environmental problems will have a greater economic effect in the long run. Cleaning up the water, for example, will save other areas. Cleaning up our automobiles will conserve oil."

"This is an important part of our environmental studies — public policy and public information. The public has been advised of solutions which will be more economical over the long haul."

Another plus she found here is the student-teacher relationship. "At SIUE, teachers are interested in what their students are doing, as long as the students themselves are interested. At some universities, there are professors who are interested and good with students, but many don't seem to care. They have their heavens where they work, and pretend the world doesn't exist."

ENVIRONMENT and anthropology lesson plans are prepared by Debra Gorman, a graduate assistant at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"I don't find anyone like that here. Some students put professors on a pedestal and about the departments where I have had courses. In environmental studies, the standards of professors and students at SIUE are very high."

Will Debi Gorman go back to Baltimore? Of course. Her fiancé is there and her fiancée is working on his doctorate at Johns Hopkins.

Meanwhile, she is glad she came to the Midwest and to SIUE, for here she has found what she came for — a practical approach to solving environmental problems.

As a state agency, the IAC receives its money from the legislature. This in turn is divided into grants and technical assistance which must be approved by a 35-member council appointed by the governor.

Asked to comment on SIUE's academic standards compared with an Ivy League university, she replied, "I can speak only about the departments where I have had courses. In environmental studies, the standards of professors and students at SIUE are very high."

The figure reflects a $750,000 increase from fiscal 1979-80, which ended June 30. It does not include $800,000 the council hopes to receive from the National Endowment for the Arts.

As a state agency, the IAC receives its money from the legislature. This in turn is divided into grants and technical assistance which must be approved by a 35-member council appointed by the governor.

Proceed with NW-Southern railway merger

Directors of Southern Railway and Norfolk and Western Railway last week unanimously approved a definite agreement for implementing a previously announced plan to consolidate their companies under common ownership and control.

The next step will be to exchange of stock. The agreement provides that the companies' stockholders will be asked to approve the plan. Details of the transaction will be provided in proxy material to be sent to stockholders in advance of the meeting.

The proposed consolidation is also subject to approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission. An application for such approval is expected to be filed in December.

The agreement provides that a new holding company, to be called NWS Enterprises, Inc., and to be incorporated in Virginia, would acquire all outstanding shares through an exchange of stocks.

The NW-Southern consolidation would create a 17,500 mile system regarded as more capable of competing with other emerging inter-territorial railroads.

Pointing out that Southern is predominantly a north-south carrier while the flow of NW traffic is mainly east-west, a spokesman said that merging the two "opens up opportunities for expanded, more efficient service to shippers that would not have been possible by each railroad acting independently."

"Uniting two of the most progressive and innovative railroads in the nation will result in a strong system, with the resources to provide even better and more energy-efficient transportation service by rail in the future."

John P. Fishwick, NW president, said the partnership represents a "classic end-to-end unification, with all the benefits that come from such affiliations."

"These include improved interchanges, better routing patterns, increased equipment utilization, and the benefits to shippers of having single-system service for much longer hauls," he said.

Southern connects here from east, NW has lines from here running northwest, west and northeast.

'Drag race' in Venice alleged

A man and a woman were arrested after they allegedly "drag-raced" their autos at 65 mph on Broadway in Venice at 1:45 a.m. Sunday.

A Venice policeman, who was using radar to check vehicle speeds at the time, chased the vehicles to the 1200 block of Oriole Street where he stopped one car and arrested the driver, who could speak only Spanish.

He was identified as Philip Castillo, 20, of 1256 Oriole St. The other vehicle, a station wagon, got away.

Later, the station wagon was seen in the 1200 block of Oriole Street and Ramona Avenues, where it was allegedly "drag-raced" at 65 mph on Broadway in Venice at 1:45 a.m. Sunday.

Police alleged he also lacked immigration papers, so immigration authorities were notified and he was released on $300 cash bond.

Sanitation vital in preparing food

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

If you grew a vegetable garden this summer, you've probably been busy processing a lot of food.

When large quantities of food are being handled, it is difficult to keep an immaculate kitchen. Working surfaces must be scrubbed clean and all canning equipment must be sterilized before use.

Raw fruits and vegetables must be washed thoroughly in sanitized utensils before freezing or canning.

The food must be prepared with clean hands, free of cuts or open sores. If there is a wound, it should be sealed with a tape bandage. If someone with a cold coughs or sneezes on the food, it can become contaminated with bacteria.

Then, the food must be either frozen rapidly at less than zero degrees Fahrenheit or processed at more than 240 degrees Fahrenheit.

Finally, the kitchen must be scrubbed again so that you can have a clean kitchen in which to prepare your next meal. These are all food handling procedures you practice to protect the health of your family.

So that you can be assured of eating food prepared in a kitchen as sanitary as you keep yours, the commercial kitchens in Illinois are routinely inspected by Illinois Department of Public Health food sanitation inspectors.

Since Jan. 1, 1980, all food establishments in Illinois have been under the supervision of a manager certified in food service sanitation by the state health department.

This person makes sure that the food served to you has been handled, prepared and cooked in accordance with the department's standards.

The manager must see that employees maintain a high degree of personal cleanliness. Knowledge of microbiology, of rodent and insect control, and of foodborne diseases must be demonstrated.

All of these requirements are for one purpose — to protect your health and that of your family when you eat food prepared in a commercial kitchen.

Quadr-Cityans who want more information about the role of a food service inspector, or the rules and regulations governing food service establishments, may write to the Illinois Department of Public Health, Division of Food and Drugs, 535 W. Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62761.

Pinpoint cause of garden problems

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser
Growing the perfect garden is the goal of every gardener. But variations in soils, weather, varieties, and gardening methods insure that some problem will occur every year. Identifying the cause may help prevent it from happening again.

Among common problems this year are poorly filled ears of corn, diseased tomatoes, hot and split onions, non-fruiting pepper plants, crooked bean pods, overloaded peaches, and misshapen apples.

The poor filling of sweet corn ears is usually due to poor pollination. Since corn pollen is carried by the wind, pollination is improved by planting two or more rows of the same variety side by side.

The rows should be 30-42 inches apart. Also, temperatures of 95 to 100 degrees F. sometimes cause "tassel burn," which prevents pollen release and reduces the amount of pollination.

Diseased tomatoes sometimes are caused by fungi and poor spray programs. If plants have yellow, diseased leaves, control may be difficult. But for long-lived plants, spray at 10-day intervals with maneb or zineb.

Split or twin onions are the result of poor growing conditions affecting some varieties. Drought, compacted soil, and improper fertilization increase the hotness or pungency while reducing size. And some varieties are naturally better than others. Sweet varieties tend to be less adapted for storage than others.

The "no pepper" syndrome is usually due to climate. Assuming that nutrients and water are available, the problem becomes one of temperature. Temperatures below 50 F. anytime, and above 70 degrees at nighttime usually cause the flowers to drop.

A week of two or more desirable temperatures will help the pepper set.

Crooked pods in beans are usually due to poor growing conditions. Young, healthy plants free of insect and disease injury yield good beans. Keep the beans picked to keep them blooming and growing.

Overloaded peach trees tend to yield small, lower quality fruit. It is somewhat late for maximum benefits from thinning peaches down to 5-8 inches apart, but it will still improve size and prevent limb breakage on late-maturing varieties.

Misshapen apples are generally the result of early season insect and disease infection. Insects such as aphids, plant bugs and curculio need to be controlled just after blossom time for the best results.

These are a few of the common problems of the summer garden. Recognizing the problem and its cause can be the first step toward prevention in the future.

CHASTAIN FAMILY NATIONAL REUNION

The Fiers Chastain Family Association will hold its sixth annual national reunion at the Marriott Inn, Clarksville, Ind., on Saturday, Aug. 30, and at the 4-H Building of the Salem Fairgrounds in Salem, Ind., on Sunday, Aug. 31.

The association was organized on Aug. 31, 1975, at Dyer, Ark. Founders are Elby F. and Pauline Bowman of Shell Knob, Mo. The site of the reunion is at a different location each year because of the wide geographic distribution of the members. Pierre Chastain, the immigrant ancestor of virtually all Chastains living in the U.S. today, was a French Huguenot and came to colonial Virginia in 1700, settling at Manakin Town, 20 miles up the James River from Richmond.

No subsidy for summer utility bills

(Office of Lieutenant Governor)
Several dozen deaths in Illinois have been attributed to the July heat wave, and nearly 300 persons were hospitalized for heat exhaustion. The elderly are especially susceptible to the effects of high temperatures, and must take precautions to avoid becoming uncomfortable.

Q. I am afraid to use my fan or air conditioner because it will run up my utility bill. Will the government help me to pay my utility bill?

A. No. You must continue to make payments on your utility bill. Although there are some government programs to subsidize high utility costs in the winter, those programs at this time do not apply to Illinois residents in the summer.

Q. I can't afford to buy a fan. Where can I obtain one?

A. Some community groups have worked to obtain fans for persons who cannot afford them. If you cannot locate such a group, contact your Area Agency on Aging. There are 13 in Illinois, located in Rockford, Kankakee, Rock Island, Peoria, Bloomington, Quincy, Springfield, East St. Louis, Centralia, Mt. Carmel, Carverville and two in Chicago.

If your Area Agency on Aging cannot assist you, call Lt. Gov. Dave O'Neal's toll free "senior hot line" number, 1-800-282-6565.

Q. What is this "senior hot line"?

A. In operation from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays, the number is for senior citizens who are having problems dealing with government agencies. There is no charge to call the number.

During the soaring temperatures, the line was in operation 24 hours a day. It is now operating during business hours.

Q. What should I do to prevent becoming ill because of high temperatures?

A. The Illinois Department of Public Health recommends the following advice:

—Stay in air-conditioned places as much as possible.

—In homes without air conditioning, use fans to boost air circulation. Open the windows to increase ventilation.

—Saturate the skin with a wet, cold towel and, if possible, use a small fan to increase the cooling effect.

—Drink plenty of liquids, especially water and fruit-based beverages such as lemonade or orange juice.

—Avoid use of coffee, tea and alcohol. These act as mild diuretics and can increase the loss of body fluids and salts.

—Avoid or restrict non-essential physical activity. Try to remain indoors or in the shade as much as possible. Take frequent breaks in a cool spot if you must engage in heavy physical activity during hot weather.

—Persons who feel the need for extra salt, such as salt tablets, should consult a physician for advice.

—Protect the head, skin and eyes from overexposure to the sun.

Grace Baptist hosts crusade

Rev. Clifford L. Moeller, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ponton, Mo., will be guest speaker Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, for the final session of the "Summer Crusade" being held at the Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St.

Rev. Moeller is well known to Baptists in Granite City. He first came to our city as associate pastor of Calvary Baptist Church for a short time in 1956, then served as pastor at Grace from 1962 to 1970, at which time he accepted the pastorate of the Lafayette Park Baptist Church in St. Louis. He has served at the Ponton Church for the past seven years.

Following the service, a "cool dessert fellowship" will be held in the fellowship hall of the church, according to Rev. Morris Anderson, pastor.

3-vehicle accident on Nameoki

Two drivers were injured in a three-vehicle accident on Nameoki Road at Manley Avenue early this week.

Police said the van of Marty Rapp, 24, of Rural Route Two, Box 791, Granite City was southbound on Nameoki when the auto of Charles Ziegler, 85, of 1025 Third St., Madison, turned from the southbound lanes left onto Manley Avenue and the vehicles collided, police were told.

Both cars then struck the auto of Norman Hessler, 2521 Morrison Road, which was stopped for the stop sign on Manley Avenue, witnesses said.

Ziegler was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was treated for a cut to his head and he was sustained and released. Rapp suffered visible injuries, but declined immediate medical treatment, authorities said. Hessler escaped injury.

BROOKS A NATIONAL LEADER IN SALES

Granite City insurance executive John E. Brooks was named to national sales leadership honors in June by the Franklin Life Insurance Co., Springfield, for his performance among the best in the company's nationwide network of more than 4,000 field associates.

Designated a member of the Franklin's President's Club, Brooks will receive special recognition from President William J. Alley for "exceptional sales performance."

New leader of Headquarters Detachment

At change of command ceremonies at the St. Louis Area Support Center (SLASC), Granite City, Capt. Robert C. Klass, deputy commander of the center, assumed command of the SLASC Headquarters Detachment from departing commander Capt. Larry D. Chrisco, who is en route to a new assignment.

Capt. Klass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Klass, Nashville, Tenn. He is a colorful ceremony in late July, Capt. Chrisco passed the quartermaster guidon to Capt. Klass who, in turn, presented the guidon to the SLASC commander, Maj. John W. Browne Jr.

Capt. Klass joined the local center on Oct. 1, 1979, from the Directorate for Materiel Management at the Troop Support and Aviation Materiel Readiness Command, St. Louis, where he was chief of the Materiel Readiness Branch.

He is a 1970 graduate of Maryknoll College, Glen Ellyn, Ill., where he received a bachelor degree in English Literature. In 1973, Capt. Klass graduated from Middle Tennessee State University, Murfreesboro, receiving a bachelor of science degree in biology. He attained his Army commission as a second lieutenant of Infantry in May 1973. The captain received his master's degree in management and business Administration from Webster College, St. Louis.

Capt. Klass and his wife, Jana, reside in quarters on the Granite City post.

Dividend set at 7 1/2% share

Post Corporation's directors last week declared a dividend of 7 1/2 cents per share, payable Sept. 30 to stockholders of record Sept. 15. This is a reduction from the 12 1/2 cents per share paid in each of the last seven quarters.

A company spokesman said the dividend was reduced as a result of lower earnings. Post had earnings of $1,774,000, or 64 cents per share, for the first half of 1980, a drop of 40 percent from the previous year's $1,927,000 or $1.05 a share.

Post owns and operates newspapers, broadcast stations and commercial printing plants in nine states. The corporation earned $87,000 or 47 cents per share in the second quarter, compared with $1,490,000 or 82 cents per share a year ago.

Continued softness in demand for classified advertising, especially in the automotive and real estate classifications, was cited by management as the principal reason for the decrease in earnings.

A spokesman added, however, that some softness is now being felt in other types of advertising demand, including the broadcast field. For the quarter, earnings of the firm's newspaper division were down 60 percent and those of the broadcasting division down 17 percent.

Higher interest costs on the company's debt contributed to the drop in earnings, management said. Despite recent decreases in rates, the firm's interest expense for the quarter was 28 percent above a year ago.

MICHAEL RAY RIDGE is the first customer to use the First Granite City National Bank remote deposit facility lobby located in the Bellemore Village shopping center. He is served by First Bank teller Linda Talley. The lobby area was open to serve the public Monday morning, July 28.

Old Testament theologian here

"Four Little Things" will be the subject of a message by Dr. Robert Vasholz during morning worship services Sunday, Aug. 3, at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, starting at 10:45.

Dr. Vasholz is professor of Old Testament Theology, Literature and Language at Covenant Theological Seminary in St. Louis.

The theologian is a graduate of the University of Stellenbosch in South Africa and Covenant Seminary.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Vasholz speak, the Rev. Don F. Pierson, said today.

Church school classes begin at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

On Sunday, Aug. 10, Rev. Pierson will begin a fresh series of "hope-filled and helpful messages, entitled Give Your Life a Lift," he said.

Church organist Tim DePries also will present a mini-organ concert, starting at 10:30 a.m. Aug. 10.

Rev. Pierson and a group of young people are leaving today for the New Wilmington Missionary Conference, it was announced.

The 75th anniversary conference, geared especially to youth, is taking place on the campus of Westminster College in New Wilmington, Penn.

The Spirit Sails, a young adult club of Nameoki Presbyterian Church, is sponsoring a "family night" at the ball park event Saturday, Aug. 9. Tickets for the St. Louis Cardinals baseball game are available from Dudy Hanks, it was noted.

RE/MAX finishes its first year

RE-MAX Realtors in Granite City will celebrate its first birthday tomorrow, honoring the growth of the office, which utilizes a unique concept of individual realtors combining their talents, while maintaining essentially individual businesses.

Since the office opened in American Village Shopping Center one year ago, eight professional full-time realtors have joined the office.

RE-MAX began in Colorado in 1973 and has become the leading 100 percent commission company in North America with more than 750 offices now open.

Local offices, besides Granite City, are in Belleville, O'Fallon, Collinsville, Bethalto and Godfrey.

State officials see plant sites

Forty-nine local and state planning and development officials toured Madison County industrial sites Tuesday and inspected shipping and storage facilities at the Tri-City Regional Port.

A group including ten field representatives of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs traveled by bus during the morning to potential manufacturing locations in Alton, Bethalto and Edwardsville.

Before arriving in late afternoon at the Port, the visitors viewed industrial parks and other sites along Route 157 in Collinsville, Interstate 270 in the Mitchell area and Route Three west of Granite City.

Port General Manager Carl A. Rant and his staff stressed the wide range of transportation links in Madison County, and said foreign trade zone regulations offer tax advantages in assembling products here from components made overseas.

Dr. Robert Koepske of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville coordinated the tour, which was intended to draw state field agents in becoming more familiar with this county. The field representatives seek to match interested companies with sites that meet their requirements.

Dean Whitaker headed the delegation from Springfield.

Concern for farmland shows need to make full use of already highly developed communities like Quad-Cities

Conflicting statistical reports are being issued regarding urban encroachment on farmland. While the situation is far from critical in Madison County—this county's farm acreage has increased from 324,745 to 333,261 over the past four years, rather than decreasing—the "moral of the story" may well be renewed emphasis on already built-up, highly urbanized areas like the Quad-Cities.

Strongly underscoring this point is the current trend toward conservation of energy.

Rather than spreading gasoline-using commuting areas increasingly greater distances, it would make much more sense to further develop and utilize residential-commercial-industrial complexes like the community, situated as it is in the heart of one of the nation's principal metropolitan areas.

In addition to fuel economy, there are immense savings from locating new families and businesses where sewers, water, electricity, natural gas and other utility lines already exist—instead of putting them at remote sites where such services have to be installed across sparsely populated territory to reach the new subdivisions or industrial parks.

The topic of conserving prime farmland from rapid, irreversible conversion to agricultural uses was spotlighted last week when Illinois Governor James Thompson issued an executive order requiring state development agencies to prepare land preservation policies for submission to his office within the coming year.

The Illinois Department of Agriculture was named the lead agency for implementing such policies. Other affected agencies are the Capital Development Board, Department of Conservation, Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, Environmental Protection Agency, Institute of Natural Resources, Department of Mines and Minerals, Department of Transportation, Bureau of the Budget and Illinois Commerce Commission.

Goal of the new approach is to minimize loss of land as an "environmental or resource production resource."

Addressing a state conference on agricultural land preservation July 22 in Springfield, Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neil said the trend has been severe and requires stronger remedial steps: "No longer can simple economics be the sole determinant for use of land. We must preserve prime parcels of the state for the future needs of our citizens." He asserted that six of every ten jobs in the nation are related in some way to agriculture.

Current figures indicate that Illinois is losing about 100,000 acres of farmland annually to shopping centers, airports, highways, housing developments and other non-farm uses.

Nationally, on a typical day, 12 square miles of farmland are converted, a pattern that exceeds three million acres a year. Census figures made available this week verify decreasing neighborhood production density here and elsewhere, a situation which reaffirms the logic of seeking more intensive land use where expensive-to-extend utilities, streets, schools and other essentials and conveniences already exist.

As is made clear by the preliminary census count, there is room in the Quad-Cities for more people.

And as was emphasized at Tuesday's tour by state governmental officials of potential industrial sites here, the welcome mat is out.

Replacement tax easily exceeding the advance estimate

There was concern among many governmental entities that when the corporate personal property tax (CPPT) was phased out, whatever was devised to replace it might be insufficient. That fear no longer exists.

Instead of a tax against businesses based on their machinery, equipment and inventories, the state authorized an increase in the corporate income tax of 2.85 percent, from 4 to 6.85 percent. The new rate in state income taxes in Illinois, 1 1/2 percent added income tax was placed on partnerships, trusts and certain other corporations, and a 3 percent tax on utilities' invested capital.

It will be recalled that the 1970 Illinois Constitution ruled out the corporate personal tax as of Jan. 1, 1973. Collections based on 1978 assessments were allowed last year, but the legislature was ordered to find a replacement by the time there would be no interruption in the flow of funds. July 1980 checks mailed to 6,764 local governments totaled $167,700,000 under the replacement tax package devised to replace the $116 million forwarded in January and the $105 million paid in April, this gives a nine-month total of $272,700,000, almost matching the $446 million received under the CPPT method for all of 1979.

"With one more payment still to be made in 1980 for the fourth quarter of the year, it is clear the replacement tax is working. It has already produced over 98 percent of the amount the old tax did," reported James Thompson noted this week.

The fourth installment may be smaller than some of the others because all refunds due business taxpayers will be subtracted from the collections. But it seems likely that the replacement total for the year will exceed the $446 million figure that was originally estimated.

Large budget supports growing city of Madison

Progress being made by the city of Madison is being cited as the primary reason for a 65.9 percent increase in the 1980-81 fiscal year budget package for Madison approved Tuesday night by the city council.

A large part of the increase can be attributed to the addition of cable television to the alarm department, boosting that department's budget from $46,350 in the 1979-80 fiscal year to $625,532 in the new budgets.

Another $400,000 of the increase can be attributed to the city's shopping center project planned for Third Street and Madison Avenue.

Two factors inflating the general fund budget of the city are the new trash collection system, which will provide plastic trash collection carts to residents and commercial containers to businesses, at a cost of $157,500, and a project of needed roof repairs, which will cost $41,500.

The general fund budget is up 25 percent over the previous fiscal year, but City Comptroller Al Hudzik explained, "When you consider the trash collection system and the roof repairs are separate items, the general fund is only about nine percent higher than last year, which is reasonable, I believe."

The special fund budgets are up 118 percent, primarily due to plans by the city to install and operate its own cable television system and a $400,000 shopping center project for Third Street and Madison Avenue. Cable television should be self-supporting and will not require a tax levy. The shopping center budget approved Tuesday night totaled $1,333,370, up from $1,064,139 in the previous fiscal year. Special fund budgets, including federal grant programs, totaled $1,799,915, up 118 percent from the $223,745 in special fund budgets the previous fiscal year.

The 1980-81 general fund budget by category, with last year's budget appropriations in parenthesis, are:

Police department, $300,288 ($281,428); fire department, $77,490 ($59,115); street department, $171,281 ($122,070), and refuse department, $286,940 ($137,017).

Executive department, $33,245 ($31,400); legislative department, $31,000 ($30,750); city clerk office, $6,300 ($5,795); legal department, $27,300 ($22,275); health and humane department, $7,800 ($7,850); and sewer department, $96,072 ($91,897).

Finance and accounting, $36,907 ($35,500); municipal buildings, $30,702 ($30,120); building inspector, $21,310 ($15,770); police commissioners, $4,050 ($3,900); street lighting, $46,500 ($44,000); fire hydrants and water, $5,200 ($5,500); insurance, $76,400 ($76,800), and summer youth employment, $5,500 ($7,500).

Suspension of firemen upheld

The suspension of three Venice firemen, for using the fire department van to attend a conference, was upheld again at the Venice City Council Tuesday evening.

Voting on a letter from the Venice Volunteer Fire Company asking the council to rescind suspension action, the vote was as follows:

Aldermen Phillip Daniels and George Mangiaracino voted to rescind the suspension; Aldermen Victor Valentine Sr., George Lewis, John Ervin and Charles Haynes voted to uphold the suspension; with Alderman Hank A. Svedia and new Alderman John Fiegl abstaining.

Alderman John Ervin said, "We appreciate everything the fire department does for the citizens. Last year the firemen paid their own expenses, as we were hard pressed in the city."

"This year we voted $300 per man to go to the conference and refused their request to use the van. It was a 7-0 vote with Alderman Daniels agreeing."

"The city does not need a van to fight fires. If you want to get really picky, at least two of the firemen should have been suspended a long time ago, but that is not the issue here," Ervin said.

Mayor Tyrone Echols said, "There is a principal involved here. The fire department is not a private club. They are housed in a city building and paid by taxpayers."

"If they conflict with city law they could find themselves locked out. Those who do not want to comply with city law won't work for the city. Their act was nothing more than open defiance of the city council and the aldermen the taxpayers elected to represent them."

and I would like to repeat it is the tax payers who pay the firemen."

Alderman Daniels said, "They do fight fires, which is what they are paid to do."

Mayor Echols said, "The question, Alderman Daniels, is open defiance of the city council. We appreciate their help at Christmas with the baskets. I cannot see anyone collecting a check from the taxpayers that defy the elected representatives of the taxpayers."

Daniels then asked, "Why did the use of the van come before the council? I thought the equipment was under the authority of the Fire Chief?"

Echols replied, "We (the city council) are still liable for the actions of the fire department, and make no mistake about it, the fire department will be accountable to the city council."

South wins classic Legion All-Star game

By TOM SCHOCKER for the Press-Record
CAHOKIA — When the best players go up against the best pitchers, you can bet the game's going to be close.

That was true when two evenly matched ball clubs, locked horns Tuesday night in Cahokia. It was the District 22 All-Star game and it was a cliff-hanger. A two-out, ninth inning, base hit from Jim McGuire of Freeburg broke up a 3-3 deadlock. Mike Schulte of Marietta scored from third and the South Division had captured this year's edition of the classic, 4-3.

With the best talent in the district involved, the game was bound to fly. But that was not the case for the first five frames. "I thought there would be a little more hitting," said South Division coach Barney Elser of Belleville. In fact, a base runner was a scarce object as the pitching staffs from both clubs stole the show.

Vince Broderick of Edwardsville took to the mound to start the game for the North Division, as did Marty Marts of Belleville for the South. And both hurlers were as stingy as possible, allowing only one base runner apiece through three innings. "When hitters get to the plate only a couple of times and pitchers only get to throw a couple of innings," said Elser, "pitching will dominate." When each club tried to show some offensive strength, the defense went to work. Brent Wood of O'Fallon got the first single of the game for the South, but the North came through with a double play in the fifth. "I was more active. Likewise, Rick Keller of Highland connected for North's first hit, however the South was not to be outdone, pulling off its own double play. "You try to get the best lineup," said North coach Don Schaeke of Edwardsville, "but it's hard to say who is better."

Finding out was indeed hard, but it was Granite City that tried to answer that question. Mike DeGonia and Bob Batey, representatives of Tri-City Post 113 in Granite City, took it on their own to put an end to the pitching spell. Coasting a one-out walk, DeGonia hustled down the line on a single from Larry Hawkins of Bethalto.

Then Batey, who started at shortstop for the North and the dominant team in the past all-star games has been the South," said Schaeke.

The South attempted to prove just that. McGuire led off with a double and was sent to third on a double by Waterloo's Mike Roy. McGuire then raced home on a wild pitch, Roy moving to third. He also scored as a passed ball was recorded. Brian Perry of Marietta drew a two-out walk and Schulte connected with his second double as the South pulled away 3-1.

Retaliating, the North speed put together four consecutive hits in the seventh, tying the score at three. Brad Yakos of Edwardsville and Keller gathered the RBI. Rich Lambert of Collinsville and Dan Allaria of Edwardsville, who had singled and doubled, scored sending the contest to the bottom of the ninth.

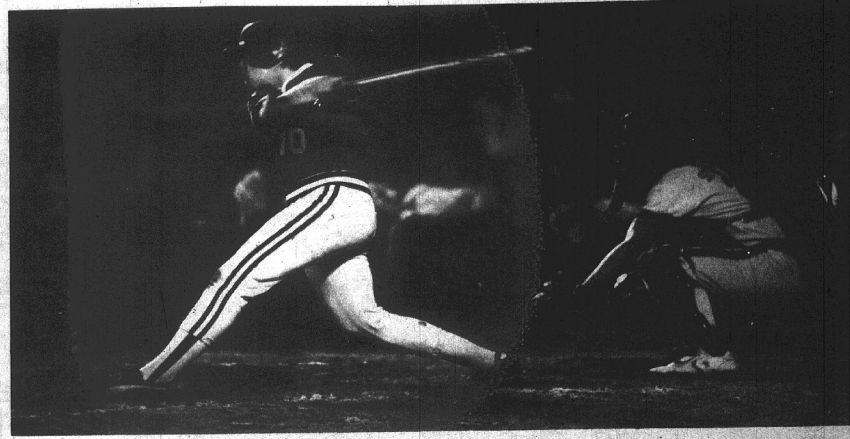

The game remained at a stalemate until McGuire got to North's final pitcher of the evening, Mark Campbell of Collinsville. "If there were a couple of players I could single out," said Elser, "it would have to be Mark Schulte and Jim McGuire. Schulte got a couple of good hits and McGuire's play was instrumental throughout the game. Not to mention the game-winning hit. Our offense played well and our pitching did a good job. That's all you can ask for, I guess."

played the entire contest, chopped a high bounce to the first baseman. The ball skipped under the charging fielder's glove and rolled into right field. De Gonia raced around third, scoring the North's first run. "I just wish I could have hit a little better," said Batey. As the pitching duties began to fall apart for the South with each succeeding change, Jeff McDaniels of Collinsville, throwing for Schaeke, looked respectable in his first inning of work, giving up a lead-off double to Schulte in the fifth. However, the extra base hit and some wildness plagued McDaniels in the following frame. "I would have to say that

All-Star Team. "It was a real thrill."

That sense of joy touched off a strong determination in DeGonia to show that his final game was to be his best. In two trips to the plate, he grounded into a double-play, but also walked and scored his team's first tally. In addition, he started in centerfield and proved his defensive abilities are the key to the real Mike DeGonia. "My hitting is all right," said DeGonia, "but I have more confidence in my defense."

He made two fine running catches while in the game. One to kill a threat and end the fifth inning for the South and another to end a rally in the sixth.

But DeGonia was not alone in his performance or thoughts about this final game. Teammate Batey handled all the chores at shortstop for the North. Starting and playing the entire contest, Batey also turned in some fine defensive plays.

Involved in a double-play in the opening frame, he robbed Tim VanDerLinder of Freeburg of a base hit in the third. His offense was not to be denied either, causing a run scoring inning which he reached on a two base error. But Batey's undying efforts will also come to an end. "I wish I could still be playing," said Batey. "I had a lot of fun."

In his fourth season with the American Legion, Batey's contributions earned him a place on the All-Star Team, four consecutive years. The first three seasons were spent with Glen Carbon, the last with Tri-City. "Everybody wants to be on the All-Star Team," said Batey. "I don't expect it. I just wait and see."

It was a big decision for Batey to choose Tri-City instead of Glen Carbon for the 1980 season. "It wasn't any fun playing (for Glen Carbon), when players didn't show up for the games," said Batey.

But he might have run into another sort of a problem coming over to Tri-City. The majority of its players are from Granite City South High, whereas Batey is a Granite North graduate. "I just didn't want to screw up," said Batey. "Those guys can ride you pretty good. But I didn't play as good. In fact, it was the worst year I've had. It wasn't the change of teams. I really don't know."

However, Batey's experience with Tri-City turned out to be rewarding. He developed friendships with many of the players including DeGonia. "Me and Mike already knew each other," said Batey. "But we got to be good friends. There's nothing bad between us. He's a good ball player and he really hustles."

DeGonia's sentiments were equally as gratifying. "Bob is a hell of a ball player," said DeGonia. "He's a good kid and I get along with him. There were no hard feelings when we first met. Although everyone said we would hate each other, but when you're playing together, it's a different story."

EDWARDSVILLE — The Paddlers swimming team of Granite City finished its dual meet season undefeated here Tuesday with a 300-153 victory over Montclair at the Edwardsville club's pool.

Signs Robertson, Heflin

SIU's Jones dips into area baseball talent

By PETER HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CARBONDALE —
Southern Illinois University-Carbondale baseball coach
"Icky" Jones is a legend.
His teams have annually been among the best in the country. But last year, the Salukis were down a bit.
Their record was 34-16. Not bad, but not good enough for Jones.

Rebuilding time.
Jones, searching high and low for baseball talent to bolster his lineup, has dipped into the Granite City area twice this summer, snatching two of the top prep players.
And one of them's from Granite City.
Mike Robertson, Granite City North High's all-state third baseman, was signed by Jones late last week along with Collinsville star Mike Heflin and several other Illinois prep players.

Jones, whose lineup at SIU is usually dotted with players from California, Florida and Arizona, has a large number of Illinoisans on his recruiting list this summer. And the signings aren't over.
Besides Robertson, area players
signed include Collinsville's
Mike Heflin and Scott

Bridges from Chester.
"I saw Mike (Robertson)
in a game early this summer and liked what I saw," Jones told the Press-Record. "He looked to have good reflexes, a good glove and a good bat.
But the main thing is his good size. He's got a good body for college baseball."
Robertson had originally planned to enroll at the University of Southern California this fall and try out for the team as a walk-on with the four-time NCAA Division I national champs.

But when Jones came knocking earlier this month, Robertson jumped at the chance to play closer to home with a legitimate Division I team. "It was closer, for one thing," Robertson said. "Plus I liked the way Coach Jones presented his program. It's pretty tough there."

Tough could be an understatement. SIU-C has been to the College World

Series three times since Jones took over as head coach.

Mike has good reflexes,
a good bat.
—Jones

In 1971, the Salukis finished second in the nation to Southern Cal. The Trojans were led by a couple pitchers named Steve Rodgers and Steve Bunby and an outfielder by the name of Fred Lynn. "Pretty tough company," laughed Jones.
"They tried to play a little." In 1974, SIU-C finished second again, to USC. In 1977, the Salukis were eliminated from the Series by Arizona State, which was led by an infielder named Joe Horner.

Sending players to the professional ranks is nothing new to Jones, either. In fact, he lost his four top juniors from last season's 34-16 squad to the Major League's amateur draft.

"We usually do," Jones said. "Our teams are made up mostly of sophomores and juniors, with a few seniors and then some freshmen filling in." Jones thinks Robertson might just be one of those freshmen to fill in.

"He's got a good shot at playing next season," he said. "Of course, we don't tell every freshman he's going to start. If we did that, you could see what kind of program we'd have. But what we tell them is that they're going to get a shot."

"We're going to be needing a third baseman next year.
And someone told me he (Robertson) could play a little third base."

What about the accusations that SIU-C ignores in-state players? "We really don't," said Jones. "We've always carried a lot of players on the roster from Illinois. It's just that unless a player's from someone's particular area, they don't realize it."

"Southern's reputation's been bad-mouthed around the state and I don't know why. I guess some say anyone going into next season. They only lost one starter to the draft. We lost four."

The season will begin for SIU-C in March with a trip to Miami, Fla. and a tournament, including Arizona and the University of Miami.

"Two little bitty colleges," laughed Jones. "Ought to get the athlete. What they come to us off to a good start, though."

After 10 days, the Salukis will head north to do battle with the likes of Kentucky,
Bradley, Miami (Ohio),
Eastern Illinois and SIU-Edwardsville.
Robertson won't be the only familiar face to Granite City area fans on the Salukis roster. GCHS South graduate Paul Evans will be a mainstay in the pitching rotation. "Paul will have to go out and handle some of the tougher teams on our schedule," said Jones. "He's got the experience."

That experience included a standout sophomore season during which he hurled a no-hitter at sister-school SIU-Edwardsville. But last season, Evans fell off a bit, according to Jones. "He really hasn't thrown as hard as he did his junior year in

'Southern's reputation has been bad-mouthed.'

high school," he said. "But I think we've found what his problem was and corrected
it. He's developed a pretty good arm and could be pretty effective with it."

School will start Aug. 25 at SIU-C. Workouts for signed players will be Aug. 27 and 28, with tryouts set for Aug.
29 and 30. Among those trying out will be Collinsville first baseman Barry Wilson.
"There are some players we haven't seen for one reason or another," said Jones.
"Some of them usually make the varsity."

But Mike Robertson won't have to try out. He's signed.

smeyer's to the loser's bracket.

In loser's bracket competition, Jacobsmeyer's downed the Collinsville Comanches 2-1. Kathy Hadley had three hits, Stacie Horton doubled in a run and Van allowed only three hits. That victory set up the final two games with Belleville. Because it was coming out of the loser's bracket, the Granite City team had to defeat the White Kids twice in the double-elimination tournament. Jacobsmeyer's downed Belleville 3-2 in the first. Schofield had three hits, including two triples, two RBI and scored a run, setting the scene for the final game.

In the nine games of the tournament, Jacobsmeyer's turned seven double plays and outscored its opponents 49-18. Schofield was the most productive member of the team with 16 hits and eight RBI. Horton had seven RBI, while Speer, Stein and Carol Makarovic each had 10 hits. The team batting average was .357. Jacobsmeyer's had 15 extra-base hits in the tournament. The defense was outstanding, allowing an average of two runs and six hits per game.

Other members of the team were Myrna Schofield, Gina McFarland, Lynne Davis, Linda Spence, Cindy Worthen, Linda Macios and Cathy Burdge.

Most industry waste is disposed of safely

An extensive industrial waste survey shows 21,000 Illinois industries generate 12.2 million tons of industrial waste, hazardous and non-hazardous, annually.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) survey also shows that about 58 percent or 7.1 million tons are disposed of annually on the industry's own property.

Preliminary analysis of the industrial waste survey shows about 37 percent of industrial waste in Illinois is moved off-site for treatment, storage or disposal (4.5 million tons).

Also, of the waste that is moving off-site, 89 percent is disposed of within Illinois (4.0 million tons) while 10 percent is disposed of in other states (0.5 million tons).

John Moore, manager, division of Land and Noise Pollution Control, IEPA, says, "The preliminary analysis of the statewide industrial waste survey indicates that the majority of industrial waste is not in trucks moving off-site for disposal."

"The bulk of wastes moving off-site for disposal, however, is going to environmentally sound, permitted facilities."

Survey results show seven percent of the waste generated in Illinois (900,000 tons) is currently being reclaimed or recycled.

Disposal locations of five percent of the waste were not accounted for due to incomplete surveys (0.4 million tons).

"Our staff wanted a snapshot picture of the total universe of industrial waste in Illinois," said Vic Crivello, manager, Public and Regulatory Communications, IEPA.

"This survey will help us assess our current program on industrial waste control and also forecast our regulatory need to implement the Federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act."

Crivello said initial analysis comparing the wastes the agency is currently permitting for off-site disposal with the projected wastes moving off-site, shows that the Illinois EPA is accounting for at least 80 percent.

The survey, a planning tool for future industrial waste regulations including hazardous waste, sought information on Illinois' industrial and pre-treatment waste liquids, solids, and sludges which are disposed.

The 38 percent survey return represents industries which employ 62 percent of the states' industrial employees. The results were used to project statewide industrial waste totals.

"The next few years will be spent getting a handle on permitting on-site practices under the Federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. That Act will expand and supplement the Illinois EPA's 'cradle-to-grave' industrial waste regulatory program," Moore said.

The prices offered during these nine hours are lower than our regular price, as we do some month end house cleaning. So from 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. tomorrow there will be some great bargains — read this ad carefully. Choose from the best in home furnishings, from Sealy, Broyhill, Berkline, Chromcraft, Schweiger, and many more.

ATTENTION: All members of

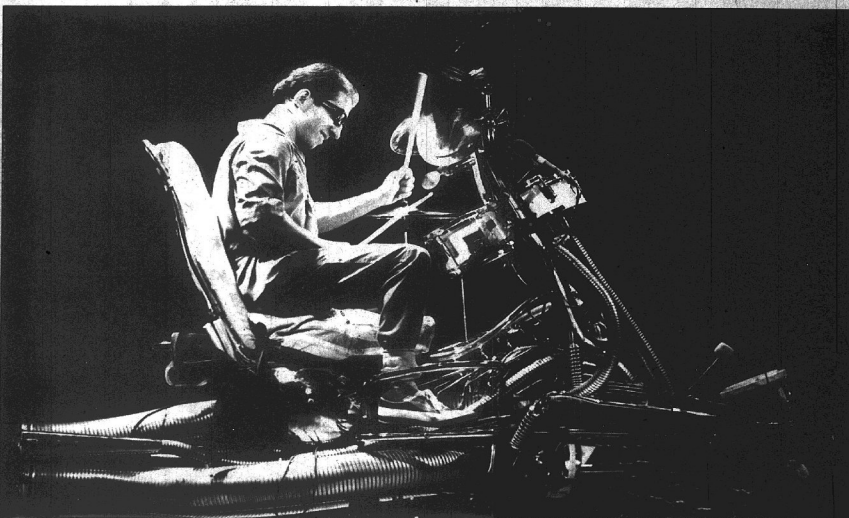

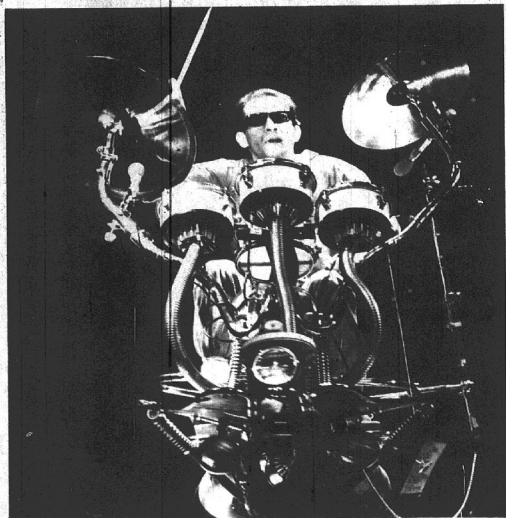

Todd Rundgren's Utopia was just that

 Mississippi River Festival
